Defence Day
Flying Home
Pity a Sad "Aristocrat'
"Coolidge," Says Hays

Current Events

—By Arthur Brisbane—

(Copyright, 1924, by Star Company)

CLERGYMEN express different opinions about defence day. The Rev. Dr. Harris, disapproving, says, "You can't outlaw war and flirt with it." He means that if you are against war, you must not prepare for war.

That's not sound. You outlaw burglary, and yet keep your police ready to handle burglars when they appear.

This much is sure about defence day. Clergymen and others may be uncertain about it now, but they wouldn't be in the least uncertain if war should break out.

IN NEW YORK CITY, at 3:20 p. m. daylight saving time yesterday, along came three magnificent flying machines, far up above the sky scrapers, sailing home.

THE FLIGHT around the world is over, and six young Americans will live in history when everybody connected with this Presidential campaign, even La Follette, is completely forgotten.

History will forever record, if only in two lines, the dates and names connected with the first human flight around the world.

Birds did it long ago, but they are only birds.

That the nation which invented the flying machine should be the first nation to send a flying machine around the world seems appropriate. More appropriate would be adequate flying machine defence for this country.

MR. GRENVILLE WINTHROP, pleasantly described by the social reporter as a "wealthy, retired banker, philanthropist and ARISTOCRAT," is under the care of two doctors. His two daughters eloped, one with a chauffeur, the other with a young electrician.

FOR A "RETIRED ARISTOCRAT" to receive such a blow is painful, but in his sorrow there is warning and comfort for other wealthy, retired American aristocrats.

One of the daughters was thirty-one years of age; she and her sister, twenty-four, had been kept secluded.

Beware how you keep daughters too secluded, especially after thirty, and MORE especially if they are rich in their own right, as these two young women.

That's the warning.

The comfort is this: The Winthrop family, to which the "retired aristocrat" belongs, may find itself improved, its energies increased and its life on earth prolonged by the addition of a chauffeur and an electrician to the family lineage.

AFTER THE FIRST wild burst of grief, the annoyed aristocratic father should look up the life of William the Conqueror. His mother was washing clothes in a brook when the Duke of Normandy first saw her. The Duke later married her.

Or the aristocrat may comfort himself with the history of Leonardo Da Vinci. His mother, an ignorant peasant girl, never married Leonardo's father. Her son is the only one in that family that ever amounted to anything. One of his pictures would sell easily for two million dollars today. There should be comfort in that, even for aristocracy.

WILL HAYS, who bossed Harding's campaign, was Postmaster-General, and now runs the moving picture industry, was explaining politics yesterday to Lady Diana Manners and Mrs. W. R. Hearst. He said that if he ever bet, which he never does, he would bet "anything he could afford to lose" that Coolidge will be elected without any throwing of the election into the House. When it comes to politics, Hays is a good judge.

YOU WILL KNOW this morning something about the election in Maine. Bear in mind that what counts, as an indication of the Presidential vote, is the election of the Senator. The fight for the Maine Governorship is local; it may go any way. The

ELOPERS NOW HEADED FOR MONTREAL

Burlington, Vt., Sept. 9.—Darwin S. Morse, chicken expert and electrian, hopped off from here today in a continuation of his now famous elopement with the former Kate Winthrop, daughter of the Lenox millionaire.

The couple arrived here from Dorset, Vt., where they had parted with the other pair of elopers, Corey L. Miles, chauffeur, and Kate's sister Emily.

Morse and his bride tossed a "Merry Ha! Ha!" to everyone who tried to learn their destination, but

King George Cables Congratulations to U.S. World Fliers

Mitchel Field, N. Y., Sept. 9. (Universal).—King George of England wired his congratulations to the American world fliers in a message relayed through Washington. The message read:

"General Patrick, will you please convey to Lieutenant Smith and the other fliers my hearty congratulations on completing for the first time in history the circle of the world by airplane. I have followed with interest and admiration the progress of the heroic undertaking."

SHOTS FIRED IN CHASE; FOUR ARRESTED

Two shots were fired by pursuing policemen today in a two-mile automobile chase through Reading and Stoneham of four alleged automobile thieves.

The men arrested, all of Somerville, were Daniel J. Martin, Thomas McNeil, George Smith and George Bosselman. Police say the car they were in was stolen Monday from John J. Fullerton, of Somerville.

Sergeant O'Brien of Stoneham recognized the stolen car as it raced through that town headed for Reading. O'Brien pursued in another car, and was later joined by Motorcycle Officer Long of Reading.

Shots from the two officers halted the car on another highway.

The four men are charged with drunkenness and Martin with driving without license or registration.

HULTMAN DRIVES ON 'GAS' COST

Threatens 66 Dealers Who Ignored His Queries With Legal Action

Failure of 66 out of 100 local refiners, wholesalers and retailers of gasoline to explain reasons for high prices, today brought down on them a threat of legal measures.

Eugene C. Hultman, chairman of the Commission on the Necessaries of Life, notified the delinquents that unless the information was at the State House by Saturday, summonses for their appearance with books and records would be issued.

Those who ignored the queries propounded by Commissioner Hultman included some of the largest gasoline companies in the State.

The original letter, demanding this information, was sent out August 28. At that time Hultman said gas prices in Massachusetts were among the highest in the country.

ACID ON TOWEL BURNS SOUTH END MAN'S FACE

Suffering from severe acid burns on his face, Joseph A. Moore, thirty-two years old and single, of No. 204 West Brookline street, South End, was today taken to City Hospital from West Brookline and Warren streets. Moore said he had wiped his face with a towel apparently clean and his face began to smart, growing worse until he ran from the house in agony.

FOG FORCES FLIERS TO LAND

Swoop Down at Aberdeen, Md., on Way to Washington

Aberdeen, Md., Sept. 9.—The world fliers were forced down by fog here today. They will resume the flight as soon as possible.

Mitchel Field, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The United States army 'round-the-world fliers hopped off from Mitchel Field for Washington at 9:35 o'clock Eastern daylight saving time.

The fliers took off from the field in the face of a thirty-five-mile wind. The departure had been delayed for half an hour while Major General Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Air Service, obtained weather reports from Washington by telephone. Although these reports stated that the skies were overcast and rain was threatening the fliers decided to go.

After he had received the weather reports, Major General Patrick conferred with Lieutenant Lowell Smith, leader of the world fliers. Lieutenant Smith said the fliers were anxious to be off. Major Patrick then approved the plan to hop off without delay.

Welcome at Capital for the World Fliers

Washington, Sept. 9.—A tinge of natinoal welcome was embodied today in Washington's greeting to the army world fliers.

President Coolidge, Secretary Weeks, Major-General Patrick chief of the army air service, and others prominent in official life temporarily shoved aside the nation's business to be on hand to extend in person the most cordial of greetings to the men who have brought America the honor of first girdling the world by air.

21-GUN SALUTE.

A national salute of twenty-one guns, the highest honors paid in American military service, roared out by guns stationed on the ellipse back of the White House, formed a part of the honor of the Capital City's program of expressing the honor and pride the nation feels in the achievement.

But before Washington could express its heartfelt welcome, preparations for the reception were so arranged as to carry the fliers over the outskirts of the city, across the

American to Give Out Wills-Firpo Fight Returns

Thursday night the Boston American will megaphone the results of the Wills-Firpo fight at Jersey City bowl.

The returns will be given blow by blow and round by round from the Hearst Building in Winthrop square.

If you want to get the big news of the fight as it takes place, come to Winthrop square Thursday night.

SILZER WON'T TRY TO STOP FIRPO BOUT

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 9.—Governor Silzer today announced he would take no step to halt the Wills-Firpo fight in Jersey City Thursday night.

His refusal was expressed in a letter addressed to leaders of various civic and church organizations who petitioned him last week to stop the bout.

In his reply the Governor said:

"I am advised by the attorney-general that I have no power to halt the fight; that the legislature has authorized boxing matches, and that the commissioner has granted a license therefor.

"This advice seems to conform with the ruling made by the court of chancery when a similar attempt was made to prevent the Dempsey-Carpentier boxing match in 1921."

Jersey City, Sept. 9.—In a last minute effort to stop the fight between Luis Firpo, "Wild Bull of the Pampas," and Harry Wills, scheduled to be held at Boyles' Thirty Acres Thursday night, Herbert Clarke Gilson, attorney for the Society for the Prevention of Vice and Promotion of Public Morals, today announced he would seek a restraining order.

Gilson said he would appeal to either Vice-Chancellor Fielder or Vice-Chancellor Bentley to issue an order stopping the fight, on the

PUZZLE AT WARD 5 BOOTH

Block Intended for Precinct 7 Is Picked Up in Street; Probe Started

With a light vote being cast in Boston, except in Charlestown and the West End, interest in the primaries today centered in the discovery of a block of Ward 5 ballots lying in a North End street.

An investigation was immediately begun by the Election Commissioners, to determine whether the ballots were dropped through carelessness or during an attempt to use them illegally.

Up to noon only 1961 votes had been cast in the seven precincts of Ward 5, Martin Lomasney's stronghold, which is lighter than a normal vote.

SUBURBS GOING STRONG.

In other parts of the city even less interest was manifested, but in the suburbs, particularly north of Boston, a heavy vote was coming out.

All through the Eighth Congressional District, that of Dallinger, a lot of voting was done early in the day. Malden, for instance, had cast fifty per cent above normal by noon.

This interest was largely inspired by the Fuller-Jackson fight for the gubernatorial nomination, the Senatorial contest, and the battles of various candidates for the Congress and Legislature.

Lieutenant-Governor Alvan T. Fuller, accompanied by Mrs. Fuller, motored from Boston to vote in their home ward polling booth, the Ashland fire station in Malden. They

G. O. P. FIGHT FOR SENATORIAL NOMINATION FEATURES PRIMARIES

HEAVY VOTE IS EXPECTED IN BOSTON WARDS TODAY

Chatting with friends and neighbors, both expressed confidence in a victory for the lieutenant-governor. Later they visited the Belmont school where the Lieutenant-Governor spoke to the children and Mrs. Fuller sang.

Congressman Frederick W. Dallinger and his family voted in the Avon street, Cambridge, polling place, where he has cast his ballots for years.

THREE-SIDED BATTLE.

A three-cornered contest for the Legislature created considerable interest in Melrose. A heavy vote was cast in Medford, Cambridge, Arlington, Winchester, Lexington, Belmont and Stoneham in the fight for Congress between Wilton B. Fay of Medford, Merrill Griswold of Cambridge and Henry I. Thayer of Wakefield.

Throughout the day balloting was conducted in an orderly fashion, and there was no excitement. Preparations were made, however, to take care of the rush of late voters expected to appear between five and eight p. m.

At the Albert Palmer School, the polling place for Ward 12, Precinct 3, only one election officer had appeared at the opening hour of 6 o'clock.

This one officer was obliged to wait around outside until 6:30 for the arrival of the janitor to open up the building. Several early voters helped him pass the time.

At the Dwight School, Ward 6, Precinct 9, one officer was missing.

In Precinct 2 of the same ward, the janitor was half an hour late in opening up the Andrews School where the polls were held.

In Ward 12, Precinct 1, the George T. Angell School of Hunneman street, one election officer was a. w. o. l.

Ward 9, Precinct 8, the Lincoln School, and Ward 15, Precinct 6, each was one election officer short at the zero hour.

Ballots for the seventh precinct of the fifth ward were found lying in the dirt by Patrolman Coyne of the Hanover police station.

The patrolman hurried the ballots to the station house and turned them over to Lieut. Hurley, who called on members of the election commission to take charge of them.

RAIN WORRIES.

An early morning rain had a number of the political leaders worried, fearing it would interfere with getting out the vote, but some time before the polls opened the rain stopped falling.

Overcast skies, however, caused the workers charged with stirring up the laggard voters, to become active.

Indications early today were that an unusually large G. O. P. vote would be cast.

The fireworks set off by Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican National Committee in endorsing Speaker Frederick H. Gillett for the senatorial nomination almost on the eve of the primaries blew the gubernatorial contest into second place.

Frederick W. Dallinger's prompt and vigorous reply in rallies at Tremont Temple where he denounced Butler's action in no unqualified terms has undoubtedly helped to bring a realignment of the position of these two candidates.

What either of these two may have gained as a result of the Butler fracas may be chalked down against Louis A. Coolidge, the third candidate.

The fight between Treasurer James Jackson and Lieutenant-Governor Alvan T. Fuller for the Republican gubernatorial nomination received a last moment boost when former residents of Canada declared their friendship for Jackson.

OTHER CONTESTANTS

With the nominationfor for Governor going to Curley and for senator to David I. Walsh, both by default, there was little for the Democrats to go to the polls for today.

The greatest interest was in the battle by John J. Douglass of East Boston against the renomination for a sixth term in Congress of Peter F. Tague, of Charlestown. Both professed to be cheered and encouraged by Martin Lomasney's support of Douglass.

For the Republican nomination for State treasurer, the campaign of former Treasurer Fred J. Burrell has furnished the principal declamatory highlights.

Both James W. Bean, of Cambridge and William S. Youngman expressed confidence that Burrell would not be in the running after today.

For the first time in years George Holden Tinkham has met with genuine opposition in his party in the candidacy of Rev. Herbert S. Johnson.

Johnson has kept Tinkham on the jump since the opening of the campaign, and he has received formidable support, the most recent being from the clergymen of the Eleventh District.

For State Auditor, on the Republican ticket, there is a three-cornered fight between Herbert W. Burr, former members of the Legislature; Harold D. Wilson and Alonzo B. Cook, who now holds the office.

John J. Cumings opposes William A. O'Hearn for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Nominations for National House and for the State Legislature will also be made at the primaries today.

EXPECT RECORD BALLOT TODAY IN MICHIGAN

Detroit, Sept. 9 (A.P.)—With a record vote for a primary election forecast by political observers, voters of Michigan are today choosing between three candidates for the Republican nomination for United States Senator and seven aspirants for the Republican nomination for governor.

On the Democratic ballot there are no contests, except a last minute opposition in the gubernatorial race, where it has been announced a sticker vote will be sought.

United States Senator James Couzens, incumbent, is opposed by Judge Arthur J. Tuttle, of the United States District Court, for the Republican nomination for the short term, made by the appointment of Couzens to fill a vacancy, while Judge Tuttle and Daniel W. Tushing, of Lansing, are opposing the Senator for the short term.

SAYS FASCISTI PLANS TO CRUSH OPPOSITION

London, Sept. 9.—The Daily Herald today quoted the Giornale of Rome as asserting that the Fascisti is planning a coup for September 21, having as its object the suppression of the opposition leaders.

Political Notes

"My candidacy for Governor of Massachusetts is based upon my proven record of accomplishment in business and public life and upon this record I am proud to stand and be judged by the Republican voters of Massachusetts." With this declaration Lieutenant Governor Alvan T. Fuller closed his campaign for the Republican nomination for Governor.

State Treasurer James Jackson, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, was reminded that State employment does not take away any rights of citizenship, by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles. Jackson had criticized Goodwin for addressing a letter to State employes in behalf of the candidacy of Lieutenant-Governor Alvan T. Fuller. Goodwin said:

"My opinion is only worth what the voters think it is worth, but no one has a right to attempt to prevent me from giving it to any voter, group of voters or all the voters."

John J. Cummings, of Boston, candidate for Lieutenant-Governor, wound up his speaking campaign in a whirlwind tour of Boston, Somerville and Cambridge, last night. He predicted that under the leadership of Curley and Cummings the Democrats would be victorious in November.

Former Representative James H. Queeney of 42 Norfolk avenue, Roxbury, is a candidate for the House of Representatives from Ward 12, Roxbury district. During his two terms in the House he made a splendid labor record and won recognition as a progressive legislator.

Denver, Col., Sept. 9.—John W. Davis spent six hours here, familiarizing himself with political conditions in Colorado before proceeding to Estes Park, in the Rocky Mountains, to finish the address which he is to deliver in this city next Thursday night.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Senator La Follette told a group of labor leaders who are supporting his independent candidacy for President that "as things stand today we have an absolutely even break to win." The labor chiefs, numbering about twenty, met here to lay plans for coordinating their campaign endeavors and for raising funds to be expended in the interests of the La Follette Wheeler ticket.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Massachusetts is one of four States where the Republicans are "certain" of gaining Senators in the November election, according to Senator Moses of New Hampshire, chairman of the Republican Senatorial committee. Following a conference with President Coolidge, Moses declared the President is "not in the least perturbed over the outlook."

Washington, Sept. 9.—The Democratic campaign book of 1924 contains this tribute to Woodrow Wilson: "Woodrow Wilson's Democracy was world-wide. He had passion, like a divine fire, for liberty, for justice and for peace. His immortal fame is in human hearts throughout the world today as it will be in the hearts of countless generations yet unborn."

MATSUI REPORTED NEW JAPANESE ENVOY TO U. S.

Tokio, Sept. 9, (I.N.S.)—It is reported that Baron Koishiro Matsui, foreign minister of the Imperial Cabinet, has been appointed ambassador to the United States, succeeding M. Hanihara, who returned to Japan following the passage of the Asiatic Immigration Exclusion bill by the American Congress.

POSTOFFICE SAFES AT BRATTLEBORO LOOTED

Brattleboro, Vt., Sept. 9.—Two safes in the local postoffice were blown open and stamps to the value of several thousand dollars stolen. The burglary, obviously the work of professionals, was discovered when Postmaster Sanford A. Daniels went to the office this morning.

TICKETS FILED BY WORKERS' PARTY

Many independent candidates filed nomination papers for the Senate and House with the Secretary of State. There will be no LaFollette State ticket.

The Workers' party, pledged to William Z. Foster for President and Benjamin Gitlow for Vice-President, filed a complete list of candidates for Presidential electors and a complete State ticket, as well as filing for the United States Senate.

The Workers' party electors ticket follows: Electors-at-large, George Kraska, Winthrop, and Michael Matthew Plepys, Boston. By districts: 1, Robert Zelms, Boston; 2, Charles Hedrick, Boston; 3, Hyman Levine, Brockton; 4, William Martella, Worcester; 5, Lewis Marks, Boston; 6, Onni Saari, Norwood; 7, Louis F. VIRGINIA GOVERNOR BREAKS ARM IN FALL

Richmond, Va., Sept. 9.—Governor E. Lee Trinkle was taken to a hospital today with a broken left arm, suffered when he was thrown from a chair aboard the Virginia Fish and Game Department boat Commodore Maury, while en route to the mouth of the St. Mary's River for a conference with Governor Ritchie of Maryland over the crab and oyster industries of the two States.

BREWSTER HAS 33,000 LEAD IN MAINE

Votes of 893 Districts Give G. O. P. Candidate 136,648; Pattangall, 103,273

Portland, Me., Sept. 9.—Ralph O. Brewster, Republican, is leading William R. Pattangall by more than 33,000 with returns in from 593 of the State's 633 electoral districts. The vote now stands: Brewster 136,648; Pattangall, 103,273.

Politicians are busy studying figures and endeavoring to accurately interpret the meaning of the record vote that swept the entire Republican State ticket into office.

United States Senator Bert M. Fernald, Republican candidate for re-election, ran slightly behind Brewster but defeated his Democratic opponent Fulton J. Redman by a greater majority.

Pattangall had based his entire campaign on attacking his Republican opponent as having the backing of the Ku Klux Klan.

Grand Isle, in the St. John River Valley a French-Canadian Catholic district, cast 330 votes for the Democratic opponent of the Klan, while Brewster received only 9 votes there. Two years ago this same town gave the Democratic candidate for governor 29 votes while the Republican candidate received 49.

On the other hand, Knox county, Protestant and ordinarily Democratic, gave Brewster 5,620 votes and Pattangall only 3,966.

Biddeford, strongly Catholic and anti-Klan, gave the Democratic ticket one of the largest majorities in the history of the city.

Brewster, when his election was assured, issued a statement declaring the Klan had no part in it—that the big Republican majority was rolled up as an endorsement of Republican principles.

Off setting this statement was one issued by Dan W. Cony of Augusta, Democratic State Committee Chairman. He said:

"It is a Presidential year, with a New England man running as the Republican candidate for President, in a Republican State, with the Republican reserve vote out at the polls. That is one reason for the Republican victory.

Victory Significant and Decisive, Says Coolidge

Washington, Sept. 9.—President Coolidge today sent a message of congratulation to George L. Emery of Portland, Maine, chairman of the Republican State Committee, on the results of yesterday's elections.

"Accept my congratulations," the President said, "on the significant and decisive victory for the Republican ticket in the State of Maine."

Chicago, Sept. 9.—William M. Butler, chairman of the National Republican Committee, today in a statement declared that "we have made a clean sweep in Maine."

"A Republican governor has been elected by 34,000. A Republican Senator has been elected by 47,000. In every one of the four congressional districts of Maine Republicans were elected by substantial and increased majorities." The Maine barometer records unmistakable confidence in Calvin Coolidge and his policies, and his triumphant election.

Senatorship vote will show how the State will stand in the national campaign.

TOMORROW, reading from sheets of ruled manila paper about one thousand words, Judge Caverly will tell the world and the two Chicago murderers what is to be done with those young men.

Latest news from the prison describes Loeb as lamenting his fate to a girl who called upon him and said: "You are just plain stupid. I would never have believed it of you."

Loeb is supposed to have said that he wished other girls had made him feel stupid instead of making him feel "devilish" as they did. That's a familiar cry. Whatever men do, women are blamed. Ask your Mother Eve.

"MANCHURIAN HORDES are marching on Peking." That's another cry from the past. Through the centuries different hordes have marched against the flowery "Middle Kingdom."

Newcomers ruled, peace and luxury undermined them, and other hordes came in to take their places. The giant wall did not keep them out, although men had not learned to fly.

Magnus Backs Off Hay Pitching Challenge

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—Magnus Johnson, Farmer-Labor candidate for re-election as United States Senator from Minnesota, announced in an address here last night that he is planning to issue a challenge to President Coolidge for a hay pitching contest. Later he declared he was only "joshing."

"You know I have been campaigning for three months," he said. "I have been doing so much talking that I was afraid the people would say, 'why, he isn't a dirt farmer after all.' So I went back to the farm one day and pitched oats."

U. S. FIGHTERS ON GUARD IN SHANGHAI

Shanghai, Sept. 9 (Universal Cable)—The allied naval force has landed a total of 1,100 men here to take up defensive positions.

The landing force includes: Americans, 250; British, 380; Japanese, 400, and Italians, 100.

The Americans are guarding the electric light station and water supply of Shanghai.

The fighting between the armies of General Chang Tso-Lin, Manchurian War Lord, and General Wu Pei-Fu, his old rival, has become so furious that it can easily be heard in this city.

The bombardment has become so heavy that it resembles that of the French and Germans during the World War.

It is reported that Wu Pei-Fu has arrived on the scene to personally direct the attack.

Shanghai, Sept. 9 (A.P.).—Chekiang forces defending Shanghai against the Kiangsu troops have regained all ground lost in the Liuho sector. Heavy rain stopped the fighting this evening, in accordance with the Chinese military tradition that fighting can be done only in fair weather.

grounds that it was a prize fight contrary to law.

Commissioner of Public Safety William B. Quinn went ahead making policing and transportation arrangements, nevertheless, asserting that as the match was advertised, as a boxing exhibition, he did not see how they could hold that it was against the law.

Quinn also issued a warning to all coming to the fight to leave their valuables at home, saying that, although every precaution would be taken, pickpockets were certain to be among the crowd.

Demands Coolidge Order Firpo Held on Ellis Island

Washington, D. C., Sept. 9.—The Firpo case is being placed directly before President Coolidge today by Canon Chase who arrived in Washington after his attorney had secured for him an interview with the President.

Canon Chase plans to ask the President to act through the Secretary of Labor and have the Argentine fighter confined on Ellis Island without bail until his status is finally determined by the immigration authorities.

The action of Canon Chase in coming here to see the President is independent of the action taken by the New York and New Jersey Civic and religious bodies to bring about a cancellation of the proposed Firpo-Wills bout.

it was generally believed they were headed toward Montreal.

Meanwhile the Miles couple has dropped out of sight altogether.

Since running away with the daughter of the multi-millionaire by whom he was formerly employed to tend the chicken coops on the Winthrop estate, Morse has taken on an air that would lead one to believe he was born to the purple, instead of acquiring it by a runaway wedding.

It was only after a series of notes were sent to Morse's room that he finally consented to be interviewed. Morse indicated he did not think it at all unusual for a poor poultryman to elope with the daughter of a multi-millionaire, and a girl worth a million in her own right.

"After the undeserved notoriety we have received," said Morse, "I do not care to add to it. Our plans for the future are not made and I cannot say where we will reside."

The bride refused to discuss the whereabouts of her sister and her chauffeur brother-in-law and also refused to discuss her present status at the Winthrop mansion at Lennox.

Having nothing better to do, the newlyweds put away the big Packard limousine, owned by the bride, and the couple attended a musical comedy at a local theatre.

Winthrop Is Angry at Daughter Emily

Lenox, Sept. 9.—Grenville Lindall Winthrop, millionaire retired banker, is annoyed at his elder daughter Emily who eloped with a middle-aged widower and former chauffeur, Corey L. Miles.

Such a report gained credence here today when it was learned the master of "Groton Place" had conferred with Mrs. Thomas S. Morse, mother of Darwin S. Morse, local electrician, who married the youngest Winthrop girl.

As a result of the visit it is believed young Morse, who is only 21 years old, will be accepted into the Winthrop family, but the millionaire's attitude toward his other son-in-law is said to be bitter.

FATHER FEELS HURT.

Mrs. Morse, asked about the meeting, said:

"Mr. Winthrop is a splendid man and father. He, of course, is much distressed at the suddenness of the whole affair and feels hurt that his daughters did not take him into their confidence. Now that the first shock has worn off however, he realizes that it was only the natural thing for the girls to do."

"Has he forgiven them, then?" was asked.

"Maybe," was the reply.

Despite the optimistic attitude of Mrs. Morse, it was said that Mr. Winthrop is much put out over the marriage of Emily to Miles, particularly after learning the ex-chauffeur's wife only recently died.

It was said he was willing to overlook Kate's elopement because of her youth, she being the same age as her husband, twenty one. Emily on the other hand is thirty one, and the father is said to feel she should have exercised more discretion.

COOLIDGE TO PREPARE FARMS PROBE PROGRAM

Washington, Sept. 9.—President Coolidge met with his cabinet in regular midweek session today with several governmental problems up for consideration. While awaiting reports on the reaction of his two speeches of last week, and of primary elections this week, Mr. Coolidge plans to devote his attention principally to the setting up of machinery to put into operation his proposed investigation of agricultural conditions and to the closing up of other official matters. The personnel of the proposed commission, it is understood will, be announced shortly.

M'KINLEY PLEADS FOR MERCY AS PHONE RINGS ALL NIGHT

IMPOSSIBLE TO SLEEP, HE SAYS

Gets Service After Month of Complaint, but Now It's Too Much

L. R. McKinley of No. 31 Highland street, Dorchester, is patient and long suffering, but there are limits to everything.

Even though fame be pleasant, a man must get some sleep. So, to the Greater Boston victims of the prevalent telephone complaint, Mr. McKinley is broadcasting the following appeal:

"If you don't get your number, call the chief operator. If she won't give it to you, call the telephone company.

TOO MUCH SERVICE.

"Columbia 0422 is a private number. Until a few days ago I had trouble getting connected with anybody from Columbia 0422.

"For the love of Mike, be reasonable and ring off."

Mr. McKinley has had more than his share of telephone troubles and would appreciate a brief respite.

For three months he had a dial phone in his house, but it didn't mean anything.

Friends couldn't get the number. Nobody called him. Operators indignantly denied that there was any such subscriber as L. B. McKinley.

In the course of time he came to know most of the operators and chief operators and complaint clerks by voice.

APPEALS TO AMERICAN.

Then he appealed to the Boston American, and this newspaper printed in full his pathetic letter telling of his difficulties.

The next morning an inspector called at the McKinley home and adjusted the telephone connection properly.

From a home never cheered by the tinkle of the telephone bell, the McKinley home became overnight a house from which the urgent clamor of the bell was never absent.

Somehow or other telephone users got the idea that McKinley was the champion of all telephone trouble victims, and they began calling him to recite their experiences and ask his advice.

Mrs. McKinley has two small children to take care of and a house to keep and little time to listen to the sad stories of the telephone sufferers.

But at night it was worse. Starting immediately after supper, the bell kept up its ringing until close to midnight.

At 11:25 the unfortunate but celebrated Mr. McKinley was compelled to arise and don his carpet slippers and go sloshing down to hear the confession of a man who couldn't get his nickel back out of a slot phone in a drug store.

RETURN HOME AGAIN FROM WORLD TRIP

CAPT. DANIEL G. MURPHY AND MRS. MURPHY

Who were passengers aboard the Dollar Liner President Adams. (Insert) Minnie Z. Jaffa, noted playwright, also a passenger aboard the ship.

Some more 'round-the-word travelers arrived today on the President Adams of the Dollar Line which sailed from here May 22.

Thirty-four passengers dropped off here, while fifty more will continue to other places when the liner sails at 11 o'clock tonight.

Even before she docked a gang of longshoremen began unloading a heavy caargo accumulated from the twenty-two ports in all quarters of the globe at which she stopped.

Among those on board was H. E. S. Bustany Pasha, a Syrian, who negotiated the treaty between America and Turkey just before the war, and who comes here for an operation on his eyes.

Minnie Z. Jaffa, Los Angeles playright and author of "Playthings," Anthony R. Arnoux, Boston lawyer and publicist, and Captain Daniel G. Murphy of the South Boston police, and Mrs. Murphy, were also on board.

TWO MEN DEAD IN OSSINING AUTO CRASH

Ossining, N. Y., Sept. 9 (I.N.S.)—Two men were killed and one injured in an automobile accident on the Albany Post Road near Poughkeepsie early today. Joseph Birdsall, Jr., son of the supervisor of visits of Sing Sing, was killed, and Charles Knight, son of the late Dr. Charles Knight of Peekskill, died shortly afterward in a hospital. Roy Lockwood, also of Peekskill, was injured.

WALES' INJURY FAILS TO STOP GAY PARTY

Eye Badly Inflamed and Painful, but He Goes Through With the Plans

Syosset, N. Y., Sept. 9.—The Prince of Wales' right eye, slightly injured by a clod of turf during his polo game at the J. S. Phipps field yesterday afternoon, was considerably improved today and confidence was expressed that it would recover rapidly.

The Prince did not allow the mishap to interfere with his pleasure last night. Though the eye was badly inflamed and pained him a bit all evening, he attended a party at the F. Ambrose Clark home, as he had planned.

There were many anxious glances at the clouded skies from which a little rain fell, here today, in view of the postponement of the International polo matches scheduled for Saturday when a heavy rainfall the day before dampened the Meadowbrook grounds.

The Prince entertained at luncheon today, the guests being George Harvey, former ambassador to Geat Britain and Mrs. Harvey; Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt; the Duke and Duchess of Alba; J. Butler Wright, Third Assistant Secretary of State and Clarence MacKay, Miss Ellin MacKay, Captain F. E. Guest and Mrs. Guest and their daughter; Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Grace and James A. Burden, Jr.

Mrs. John S. Lawrence of Boston also was a guest.

UNFAIRNESS CHARGED BY HIBBEN COUNSEL

New York, Sept. 9.—Colonel John J. Bradley, counsel for Captain Paxton Hibben in the hearing before an army board of inquiry to determine Captain Hibben's fitness to retain a commission in the Officers' Reserve Corps, charged at the hearing today that the opposite side in reading documents as evidence against his client had "omitted portions very significantly."

Brigadier-General William Barclay Parsons, president of the board of inquiry, had stated that certain papers about to be introduced were taking the time of the court unnecessarily.

FRANCES W. PAINE, TRAIN VICTIM, DIES IN LYNN

Miss Frances Wilson Paine, the twenty-seven-year-old daughter of Dr. Wilson Paine of Aberdeen, Wash., whose legs were crushed by a Boston & Maine train at the Lynn station Sunday night, died at the Lynn Hospital today.

Miss Paine, who had an apartment at No. 133 Myrtle street, Boston, had been visiting her fiance, Edwin F. Colton, and his mother at their home, No. 25 Red Rock street, Lynn.

Running for the train, she was tripped by a tight skirt and fell under the wheels.

TWO HELD IN DOUBLE DEATHS FROM DRUGS

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Police investigation of the double deaths of Mrs. Emma Green and Charles Blair from overdoses of drugs today resulted in the detention of Harry D. Hunter, Oswego, N. Y., stock salesman, and Mrs. Morris Woolrich, local rooming house proprietor. Hunter is held on an open charge which may be changed to link him with the robbery of the Bush Drug Company at Oswego. Narcotics alleged to be part of the Bush loot were found in his possession, police say.

STATE HOSPITAL PATIENT DROWNS IN QUINSIGAMOND

Worcester, Sept. 9.—Webster de Mange, forty years old, a former resident of Lowell who was committed to the State Hospital here from the Boston Psychopathic Hospital on July 8, was drowned today in Lake Quinsigamond while swimming. De Mange was considered a harmless patient and was allowed many privileges. Shortly after he had left the hospital his clothes were found on the shore of the lake. A squad of police dragged the water in the vicinity and recovered the body.

DIVERS FAIL TO FIND SUICIDE SEAMAN'S BODY

Newport, R. I., Sept. 9.—A search for the body of Seamen E. L. Beard of Atlanta, who committed suicide a week ago by leaping into the water from the U. S. Auxiliary steamer Antares, was abandoned today. Divers from the torpedo station here said they believed there was no chance of finding the body.

Excessive hazing was said to have caused Beard's act.

BURGLARS MAKE SIX BREAKS IN MAINE TOWNS

Houlton, Me., Sept. 9.—Surrounding towns are stirred by reports of six breaks in the last few days, apparently by a band of expert burglars. In each case safes and vaults were rifled of money and negotiable paper.

Four of the breaks were at Island Falls in one night. Two others were at Mars Hill, where a total of $7,000 was secured.

LAWYER, LOVE PIRATE, SAYS HUSBAND

Predicts Sensational Testimony in $75,000 Alienation Action

Sensational developments are promised by counsel in the $75,000 "love pirate" suit entered against Koran C. Small, prominent Boston attorney, by Claude Collinson of Avon.

The Avon man's attorneys in filing the suit in the Suffolk courts asserted the lawyer lured Mrs. Collinson from her husband and four children. John H Powers of the law firm of Beal & Powers, representing the husband, said the disclosures at the trial would be "sensational."

Collinson is 40 years of age and his wife is the same age. The couple were married 15 years ago and that they lived happily until the attorney lured the wife and mother away, the husband alleges.

"Homeless" Motorist Without License or Brakes, Fined

Worcester, Sept. 9.—George M. Dillingham, twenty-nine years old, who, the police said, had no home, no license, no registration and no brakes, was fined $20 on each of three charges in District Court. Dillingham's car collided with another auto at Gates Lane.

COUNCIL VOTES $15,000 FOR PHONE PROBE

Money to Be Used in Gathering Evidence Against Rate Increase

An additional appropriation of $15,000 was voted by the City Council for further investigation of the rate increase asked for the New England Telephone Company and temporarily granted by the Public Utilities Commission.

This makes a total of $20,000 the council has already granted Mayor Curley, the money to be used by the city law department for the gathering of more evidence in connection with the necessary prosecution of the case before the board.

The Mayor, in presenting his order to the council, said:

"The Corporation Counsel now finds that it may require at least $15,000 additional to secure the necessary evidence and to properly conduct the case in behalf of the municipality.

"This is a character of service that no city in the Commonwealth would be required to undertake provided the Public Utilities Commission really represented both parties to the controversy, namely, the people of the Commonwealth and the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company."

EXPLOSION DESTROYS EIGHTEEN VILLAGES

London, Sept. 9.—Eighteen villages have been destroyed by the explosion of two forts at Hassinler, in the Vilayet of Erzeroum, in Asia Minor, according to an exchange telegraph dispatch received here.

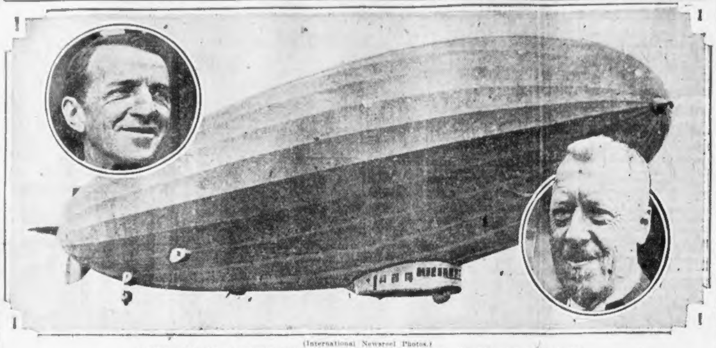
ZR-3, NAVY DIRIGIBLE, BUILT ON MASSIVE LINES



(International Newsreel Photos.)

AMERICA'S NEW ZEPPELIN AND HER GUIDING SPIRITS

The ZR-3, part of Germany's debt to the United States, taking her first tests in Germany today, preparatory to her three-day flight across the ocean to her new home. Captain Steel, U. S. N., insert at the upper left is one of the three United States observers taking part in the trials and scheduled to make the trip across with the crew of thirty Germans. Dr. Eckner (lower right) is the Zeppelin expert in charge of the ship, who is piloting her in her final trial today and probably will pilot her across the ocean.

TEST FLIGHT OF NAVY ZEPPELIN IS PUT OFF

Friedrichshafen, Sept. 9. (A.P.)—The flight which had been planned for today for the dirigible airship ZR-3, constructed here for the United States Navy, was postponed because of the prevalence of high winds throughout this region. It had been the intention of the constructors to try out the motors for maximum speed and altitude and put the airship through various other tests.

Among the disappointed ones who had intended taking a trip today on the ZR-3 was Countess Hella von Brandenstein-Zeppelin, daughter of the late Count Zeppelin, who 15 years ago was the first girl ever taken aloft in a dirigible. The countess is living in Castle Biberach near here.

ZR-3, Due About Sept. 20, To Cross In 3 Days

Washington, Sept. 9.—When the ZR-3 shoves her silvery nose past the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor about September 20 she will represent in her stately magnificence the finest vehicle of her kind in the world.

It is expected the trip across from Friedrichshaven, Germany, will be accomplished in three day and two nights, when this princess of the air will slide into the hangar at Lakehust to take her place beside her sister ship, the Shenandoah.

Arrangements to maintain constant radio communication with the ZR-3, Leviathan of the air, during her flight from Germany to the United States, have been completed by the Navy Department.

Ludendorff Would Make Any Dog Mad, Is Claim

Munich, Bavaria, Sept. 9.—General Ludendorff's hunting dogs have kicked up a row in city council. Two of the dogs were impounded for running without muzzles and ordered killed.

Ludendorff and his political supporters obtained an annulment and the social democrat faction protested. They said the general's dogs were more apt to be mad than those of any other ownership "because of association with their master."

HOAR STATUTE TO HAVE NEW PAIR OF GLASSES

Worcester, Sept. 9.—City Messenger Edwin M. C. French has commissioned Walter B. Taylor of No. 2[illegible] Grove street to make a new set of old-fashioned bow eyeglasses for the statue of Senator George F. Hoar on City Hall plaza to replace those torn off by vandals.

ALLIES WARN GERMANY TO KEEP PACT

By KARL H. VON WIEGAND.

Berlin, Sept. 9 (Universal Cable).—The French, British and Belgian ambassadors called on the German Foreign Office and warned it against officially notifying the Allies that Germany repudiates the clause in the Versailles treaty which makes Germany solely responsible for the World War.

There is every reason to assume that Germany will bow to this pressure and abstain from the notification.

Nevertheless the question of war guilt has suddenly become a dominant issue in Europe following Marx's public repudiation of Germany's responsibility for the war, as part of the price for the Nationalist vote in favor of the Dawes plan.

There is a dispositon in some German circles to blame American bankers for part of the trouble Germany finds itself in, because the bankers demanded that Marx make concessions to the Nationalists to assure passage of the Dawes laws.

USE YOUR EYES AND WIN A PRIZE!

MAIL IN YOUR LIST TO NEW ENGLAND EDITOR, BOSTON AMERICAN
P. O. BOX NO. 221, BOSTON, MASS., not later than midnight, September 20th.

By keeping your eyes open and making a complete list of all the articles made in New England that you see, you will stand a chance of receiving a big cash prize.

Anyone 18 years old, or over, man or woman, is eligible. You must be a resident of Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire, Massachusetts, Rhode Island or Connecticut. No limit is set on the character of the products except that they must have been seen in a retail store and made in New England.

There are no compositions to write. There are no puzzles to be solved. No coupons to fill out. No labels to collect. All you are asked to do is "use your eyes" and try your skill at a little very easy reporting.

Retail Merchants: Display the New England Products which you have. Be prepared to answer the questions given above. Help your friends and customers to be among the winners!

To Know New England Products Is to Want New England Products

KEEN EYES CAN WIN $1,700 IN AWARDS

Everybody Eligible to Enter New England Week Competition

This is the time of year when everybody's fancy turns seriously to thoughts of money.

With father, the subject may be a tuition bill. Mother is thinking of new togs for school.

Maybe it's a Winter vacation in Maine, New Hampshire or Vermont—a growing custom, this, of visiting Winter where Winter lives.

HOW TO GET MONEY.

We all want coal, anyhow, and this leads us straight up to the subject of where to get the money.

Nowhere else than the Boston American's $1,700 "Keep Your Eyes Open!" competition.

New England Week begins one week from next Monday, on September 15.

To encourage everybody in New England the retail merchants of these six States will specialize for six days on the products of New England.

$500 FIRST AWARD.

Mr. Retailer will fill his windows, pile his counters and stock his shelves with things made or grown in this part of the country.

The Boston American's $1,700 in cash awards will be paid to those of its readers who send in, at the close of New England Week, the largest lists of New England products seen exhibited anywhere in New England in the course of the Week.

There will be $500 in cash for the largest list of all, and $200 for the next largest list.

These two Grand Awards will be paid regardless of your place of residence, so long as that residence is in New England.

35 OTHER AWARDS.

Thirty-five other awards will be divided equally among five "districts," $200 to each district.

The district awards are $100, $50, $25, $10 and three of $5 each.

The districts are Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont and Rhode Island with Connecticut, the last two States combined.

Who may take part in this competition? Any resident of New England.

Any age limit? No.

Is it required that the contestant be a regular reader of the Boston American? It may be advisable to see this newspaper daily, from now until the close of the competition, but there is no requirement of that sort, no obligation whatever.

BUY HOME-MADE GOODS.

Too much New England money has been carelessly permitted to go out of New England, for the purpose of filling pay-envelopes somewhere else. Mr. and Mrs. New Englander take a walk along Main street and, without stopping to think drop into Blank's and buy shoes, cottons, any one of a thousand things, made two thousand or more miles away.

Throughout New England Week, therefore, the retailers of these Six States will make special exhibits of things produced in New England.

Make a list of these things. Tell where they are produced. Then, tell where you saw them. First, in whose store? On what street? In what town? In what part of the store?

There are no "rules." Simply write the facts. As easy as that!

JAP FOREIGN MINISTER SPEAKS ON EMIGRATION

Tokio, Sept. 9 (A.P.)—Foreign Minister Shidehara, speaking before the opening session of the Imperial Emigration Commission, of which he is chairman, today laid emphasis on the fact that the population of Japan was growing from 600,000 to 700,000 annually and that while emigration furnished an outlet for only a small part of the number, nevertheless it was necessary to seek the best available outlets.

However, the foreign minister added, care should be taken that Japan's emigration policy should not jeopardize her relations with other powers.

HOLLANDER CAME HERE ON BATTLESHIP TEXAS

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 9.—Deportation of Baron Arend Van Westerholt of Holland, as an Alien, has been ordered held up here on request of the commander of the Battleship Texas, who wants him as a witness before a court martial, which will determine how he got aboard the Texas, which brought him here from her annual cruise with the Annapolis midshipmen.

ATTACKED BY NEGROES, MAN DIES OF FRIGHT

New York, Sept. 9.—Samuel Turk, sixty-eight, a retired merchant, died today after two negroes bound and gagged him and his sixty-five-year-old wife in their apartment in the upper West Side. The police believe Mr. Turk died of fright.

The couple lived in a house occupied chiefly by negroes. Turk, his wife said, had gone to the door of their apartment to get the milk when he was set upon.

Films Left Flat

THELMA CONVERSE, Who renounced society for movie career, is back in New York, preparatory to going abroad for several months.

VANDERBILT HEIRESS WILL GO TO FRANCE

New York, Sept. 9.—After a whirl at Hollywood, during which she played small parts in two screen productions, Mrs. James Vail Converse, twin sister of Mrs. Reginald V. Vanderbilt, is back in New York preparatory to going abroad.

DEFENCE DAY OPPOSED BY MALDEN PASTOR

Contending that observance of Defence Day is "likely to be interpreted by foreign nations as a military gesture," and "do a great deal of harm rather than good," the Rev. Charles Dunn, president of the Malden Ministers' Association and pastor of the Mysticside Congregational Church, addressed a letter to Mayor Kimball of Malden, declining to serve on the committee chosen to arrange a program for the observance in that city.

HERRING PILED FOOT HIGH ON RYE BEACH

Rye Beach, N. H., Sept. 9.—The largest school of herring in many years was washed ashore here near Jennes Beach. Thousands of herring, evidently driven in by dogfish and larger fish, were caught in the waves and carried to the shore. They ranged from three to eight inches in length, and in some places on the beach were piled a foot high.

BIG WELCOME FOR ST. JAMES PLAYERS

Enthusiastic Greetings Are Given Familiar Cast in "Civilian Clothes"

"Civilian Clothes," a play full of original humor, ushered in the fourth season of the Boston Stock Company at the St. James Theatre last night.

A crowded house welcomed the return of old favorites in the company, not only by prolonged applause but by a wonderful display of flowers which practically covered the stage when, at the end of the second act, Stage Manager Godfrey personally presented each player to the audience.

Herbert Heyes, the new leading man, and Miss Kay Hammond, the new leading lady, were given an ovation.

The female scion of a Kentucky family marries a cave-man officer in France, only to find on her return that he is the son of a cobbler and wears red neckties. But, the cave-man-officer, none other than "Sam McGinnis," impersonated by Herbert Heyes.

THRILLS FILL 'FIRE PATROL' AT OLYMPIA

Hazardous Work of Men Who Fight Flames at Sea Shown In Film

Tingling thrills were enjoyed by the audiences at Gordon's Olympia Theatre yesterday as they watched the sensational photoplay, "The Fire Patrol."

This picture shows the hazardous work of the men who man the fire boats that patrol the coast. There were several stirring scenes, one of which showed a great freighter burning at sea, while those on board leaped into the waves to be rescued by the men of the fire patrol boats.

In the love story, woven into the plot, a fire patrolman and his blind father meet many strange experiences and adventures before the patrolman finds a way past the barriers which block his road to happiness. It is a picture of absolute romance and smashing adventure scenes.

"The Texas Comedy Four" supplied a novel comedy offering as the feature of the five-act vaudeville bill. "The Huberts" offered another unusual laughter specialty.

Mackays, Royal Entertainers, Ideal Hosts for Prince of Wales

By BETTY ALDEN

A MANSION towering majestically over all others on Long Island, modelled after a French chateau of the eighteenth century; a long, winding drive approaching it, and formal gardens and terraces, resembling those of Versailles, surrounding it.

Its interior abounding with priceless tapestries, stately winding staircases, rare paintings. A great entrance hall, boasting one of the most notel collections of mediaeval armor in the world and decorated with battle and processional flags of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

This may give you some idea of "Harbor Hill," the country home at Roslyn, L. I., of Clarence H. Mackay.

It was to "Harbor Hill" that more than 1,000 guests flocked Saturday to meet the Prince of Wales, the occasion being the dinner and dance tendered him by the Mackays.

It was not extraordinary at all that Mr. Mackay should entertain the royal visitor, for the former's mother, Mrs. John W. Mackay, who greeted the Prince Saturday at "Harbor Hill," had frequently entertained at her London home King Edward VII., grandfather of the Prince of Wales.

In fact, one of the most brilliant functions given in Mrs. Mackay's mansion at No. 6 Carlton House terrace was for the late Princess Mary Adelaide and her husband, the Duke of Teck, and their daughter, Princess Mary, now Queen of England, mother of the Prince of Wales.

VERILY was it a long-to-be remembered evening for Long Island colonists and their guests—to say nothing of the blue-coated gentlemen at the command of whose white-gloved hands even a prince must stop.

There was quite a representation from Boston among the ultra-smart throng that made merry at "Harbor Hill."

There were the Deering Howes, who have lived in Boston for several seasons now; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sturgis Morgan, the latter formerly Miss Catherine Adams of Boston; Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Nelson Slater, young Mr. and Mrs. William H. Vanderbilt, who made a host of Boston friends during the past Winter while they resided on Louisburg square; John Nicholas Brown, a Harvard '23 man; Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Cutting (Mary Amory), Mr. and Mrs. F. Trubee Davison, the latter known as one of Boston's most popular girls during her Dorothy Peabody days; the Misses Jean and Charlotte Potter, daughters by his first marriage, of William C. Potter of Gotham, who a year ago last March married Miss Rose Saltonstall, daughter of Mrs. Philip Saltonstall of Boston; also Harold S. Vanderbilt, one of the North Shore's most popular colonists.

DOROTHY AND BOBBY POTTER

COLUMBIA IS NEW HOME OF BURLESQUE

"Maids From Merry Land" Offer Bright and Lively Entertainment

The Columbia Theatre yesterday blossomed forth as a high class burlesque house. It is many years since this place of amusement, once one of the leading in the burlesque field, has presented this kind of entertainment, and it must be said that its start yesterday was promising.

The attraction was Sam Raymond's "Maids From Merry Land," with three clever comedians featured. It is a show that is equally attractive to both women and men, there being a delightful absence of anything offensive in the entire program.

The prise elements that go to make up the "Maids from Merry Land," is comedy of an appetizing kind, music that sets the ears tingling, and a tepsichorean evolution that charms.

The comedy is principally furnished by Lew Rose, a burlesque comedian of known quality, and by Harry Harrigan, one of the drollest of Hebrew characters. The dance features are contributed by Mlle. Valeska and a galaxy of accomplished steppers, who introduce several of the latest Moorish concerts, which have never been seen here before, and which are full of rhymthic grace. The chorus consists of twenty pretty girls.

SOMERVILLE PLAYERS IN "THE FIRST YEAR"

As bright and finished a production as one could wish to see of "The First Year," was given by the Somerville Theatre Players last evening. In this play the author, Frank Craven, has taken the simple theme of matrimonial misunderstandings. The first action takes place in the modest home of Grace Livingston, who has two sisters, Thomas Tucker, diffident and timerous, though earnest, and Dick Loring, self-assertive and breezy, though of less stable character. The backward chap, however, wins out and then the difficulties of married life flare up, mostly over trifles.

HOUDINI MYSTIFIES AT KEITH'S THEATRE

The great and only Houdini, performer of feats of mystery that make the chills run up and down your spine, is the headliner this week at the B. F. Keith's Theatre. He is the same Houdini of old, clever and mystifying. Last night he proved that he has lost none of his cunning and the audience could not get enough.

"Dante's Inferno"

The formal opening of the William Fox season at the Tremont Temple will take place on Monday, September 22, when "Dante's Inferno" will be presented for the first time in New England. It is a modern story by Cyrus Wood, the drama and beauty of which is based on the classical writings of Dante. "Dante's Inferno" is the first of a number of feature productions that are to follow at the Temple under the Fox banner.

TO THE TINKLE OF THE BELL

AMETHYST GLASS makes a crystal clear sound. Table bell, about 8 inches high. $2.00. Blue or amber ones, too. Prettily shaped, cut glass. Thin. Lovely.

GLASSES for ginger ale are specially made with tiny extra invisible rim on edge to keep it from chipping. Dainty, small size. Needle etched. Set of six, 69 cents.

TUMBLERS won't break if they have a bulge that protects their edge from striking when they fall. Pretty pattern. Needle etched. 89 cents a half dozen.

GOOD COFFEE is freshly ground in a coffee mill. $1.00. Glass jar on top, adjustable grinding blades. Tumbler on stand. Takes just a few seconds, and tastes so much better.

AN EGGNOG can be made in a hurry anywhere. With a new product. 50 cents. Makes about a dozen. Coffee, chocolate or Jamaica flavor. Nourishing. Delicious. Keep on hand at home or take with you when traveling.

ROLL-TOP BREAD or cake boxes keep the loaves fresh. $1.19. White enamel, gilt trimmed. Medium weight tin. Size 10½x11x14 inches. Nice looking. Easy to open.

OMELET PANS look like two half circles. Two handles and hinges at center make it easy to flop one side over the other. $1.00. Aluminum. Good quality. Wear for years.

GOLD COLOR edge and traced handles are on china cups and saucers. 19 cents. Good value. Pretty and clean looking on the kitchen dresser.

BOUDOIR LAMP is made with lovely rose or cadet blue base. Matching silk shade is trimmed with little rosebuds. $3.50. About 16 inches high. Dainty on a bed-side table. Put the rose one in a lavender and rose room.

A HAMPER is a great help in keeping the bathroom tidy. White enamel. Best quality reed, giving plenty ventilation. Wooden bottom. Oblong, size 9x18x24 inches. $3.35. Square, 14x14x24, same price.

BEDROOMS look inviting if there are ruffled voile curtains at the windows. $1.59. Deep flounce at bottom, narrow ruffle on sides. Hemstitched inner bands, tie-backs to match. Fine sheer voile.

CRACK LIMITED TRAIN IS WRECKED

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 9.—Southern Pacific passenger train No. 102, eastbound, known as "The Sunset Limited," was wrecked near Maricopa, Ariz., according to meagre details received in railroad circles here.

The locomotive overturned and several coaches were derailed. Other members of the crew and all passengers escaped unhurt.

The crack Southern Pacific train left Los Angeles at 9 a. m. Monday heavily loaded, an extra sleeper being provided to accommodate the unusually large number of passengers carried.

MEDFORD GIRL SUES FOR $25,000 HEART BALM

Louise S. Brown of Medford entered suit today in the Middlesex Superior Court against John C. Bishop of Newton, alleging breach of promise.

She asks for heart balm to the amount of $25,000. She alleges that sheh and Bishop "kept company" for some time and that he has failed to keep his promise to marry her, although she is "ready and willing."

COUNCIL VOTES $31,000 FOR PLAYGROUND

Approves Mayor's Order for Grading and Improving Neponset Field

The City Council passed an order calling for the appropriation of $31,000 for further improvements at the Garvey playground at Neponset, upon the recommendation of Mayor Curley.

Despite the fact that $16,000 has been expended in the past for grading, the playground is still unsuitable for use, it is pointed out.

The Mayor, in his message and order to the council, said:

"More than twelve years ago, as a member of the board of aldermen, I secured the adoption of an appropriation in the sum of $10,000 for the filling and grading of this playground and since that time an additionl sum of $6,000 has been expended for a like purpose. Apparently it is a problem that only can be solved by a generous expenditure of public money. The completion of the Mayflower Highway skirting the lower end of the playground in a measure assists in the solution of the problem of grading.

"It should be possible with an expenditure of this amount to provide 20,000 cubic yards of filling and grading at $1 per yard, 2,000 yards of loam at $2 per yard, drainage in the sum of $2,500, fences and backstops for $2,500, and a shelter for children at $2,000.

"It should be possible to complete this work by the early Spring and at some time in the latter part of 1924 provide the necessary money for a suitable sanitary and locker building."

COMMERCE CHAMBER TO ENTERTAIN VISITORS

Three hundred members of the Harrisburg Chamber of Commerce will be entertained at luncheon Thursday at the Copley-Plaza by the Boston Chamber of Commerce. After luncheon the visitors will tour Boston.

Among those who will speak at the luncheon are President Howard Coonley of the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and former President Frederic S. Snyder.

RAINCOAT STRIKE ENDS AND 600 RESUME WORK

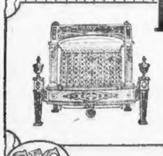
Radiantfire



GAS

The Ideal Home Heat

A RADIANTFIRE gives more solid comfort to the square inch than any heating device money will buy. Its heating surface sends out a cheerful flood of warmth that keeps coming as long as you want it. Unlike most heating devices it does not exhaust the air in the living room, but helps to keep it pure and wholesome.

Make Your Living Room Livable

You've got to see and feel Radiantfire heat to really appreciate what it will add to your comfort.

Right now, on chilly autumn nights and mornings, Radiantfire will make your home life more comfortable. Later, when the furnace is having a hard time to make good against the severe weather, Radiantfire will be a wonderful auxiliary heater. Put one in the living room or anywhere in the house where the family likes to gather in cozy comfort or needs warmth.

Radiantfires use Gas, the cleanest, most efficient fuel—giving off the nearest approach to the pure heat of warm sunshine.

Investigate Radiantfire today and be comfortable tomorrow. You'll want it.

THREE YEARS IN PRISON FOR MOZETTE

Clairvoyant Swindler Unlikely to Ever Leave Charlestown Alive

The doors of the State Prison in Charlestown have closed on "Sir" Thomas Mozette, one of the cleverest clairvoyant swindlers in the country and it is unlikely he will ever leave the institution alive.

Mozette was sentenced to prison for from three to five years for swindling Mrs. Justine Gordon of Everett out of $11,000.

Mozette, who is fifty-two years of age, is suffering from a bad heart and high blood pressure, Judge Irwin in Middlesex Superior Court was told before he pronounced sentence. The court was informed that Mozette had only a short time to live.

The crime to which the swindler pleaded guilty was committed in 1916 and Mozette was not arrested until last Spring, in California.

The fact that the prisoner never made any effort to restore even a portion of the money to Mrs. Gordon was the reason for the sentence imposed by Judge Irwin, even though the swindler is in the shadow of death.

Chemist's Bride

MRS. ALFRED J. NORTHAM.

Former Miss Alice I. McMeehan of East Providence, who is bride in college romance.

Rutland, Sept. 9.—The monotony of waiting here for the call to return to their respective bailiwicks in Rhode Island and again carry on legislative business was varied here today for the "exiled" Republican Senators by their participation, as guests, at the wedding in the Rutland Congregational Church of Miss Alice Iver McMeehan of East Providence to Alfred Northam, an industrial chemist, employed at Jeannette, Pa.

PART-PAYMENT STOCK DEALS ARE HIT

State to Probe Transactions of This Nature on and After October 1

Stockbrokers who have been mulcting the public of millions of dollars annually through the so-called "partial payment plan" may find lean pickings here.

Under an amendment to the "Blue Sky" law, now in effect after the customary lapse of 90 days following the passage of the act, all contracts on partial payments are subject to review by the State Department of Public Utilities.

The new law provides that when stock is purchased on account, securities to the amount paid in shall be actually delivered. Heretofore, brokers and salesmen in many instances took advantage of a lapse in payments to hold on to the stock and the money paid in as well.

On and after October 1, the department is authorized to probe into the past history of all applicants for salesmen licenses and to grant such licenses in their discretion.

40-DAY JAIL TERM FOR CRIME STUDENT

New Haven, Sept. 9.—Dudley Shannon MacKenzie of Washington, D. C., will not enter Yale Divinity School this Fall, as he had planned, because he will spend the next forty days in the New Haven jail.

Dudley, who claims to be a former student at Oberlin College, was arrested for passing bad checks. In his room was found a card catalogue and record of New Haven jails. He said he was engaged in a study of criminal institutions, and that a Yale professor told him to get arrested so he could get first-hand information on jail life as a preparation for his work in the ministry.

HAVE NEW EVIDENCE, SAY FALL PROBERS

Washington, Sept. 9.—Atlee Pomerene and Owen J. Roberts, special counsel for the government in oil prosecution, in an answer filed today in District of Columbia Supreme Court, deny they are merely "fishing" for additional evidence in the second grand jury investigation into the oil situation as charged by Attorneys for Albert B. Fall. New facts have come to their knowledge, they say, and they are seeking to discover whether there have been other violations of law.

$100,000 SUIT AGAINST SHERIFF IN AUTO CRASH

Winsted, Ct., Sept. 9.—Damages aggregating $100,000 are sought today in six suits against Sheriff Horace Kelsey of Salisbury as the result of an automobile accident on April 25. The plaintiffs are Mrs. Isabel H. Doorsam, her husband, A. H. Doorsam, president of a Springfield (Mass.) taxicab company; Charles E. Bellizeau, chauffeur, and Paul, Florence and George E. Davis of New Haven. The Kelsey car ran into the machine in which plaintiffs were riding.

WORCESTER LAWYER DIES AFTER LONG SICKNESS

Worcester, Sept. 9.—Frank F. Dresser of the law firm of Smith, Gage & Dresser of this city, and general counsel for the Associated Industries of Massachusetts, died here today after a long illness, aged fifty-one years. He was born in Southbridge and was a graduate of Harvard. Several times he was offered a Superior Court judgship and was U. S. commissioner for the Worcester district for fifteen years. He was a member of the Union Club of Boston.

HAVERHILL MAN TAKES OWN LIFE WITH GAS

Haverhill, Sept. 9.—Unsuccessful in getting his wife to enter into a suicide pact with him, George O. Cheever, shoe worker, took his own life in his home, No. 231 Essex street, this city.

Cheever's body was found in a gas-filled room by his wife, Ella, who smelled gas and made an investigation.

AMBROSIA SALAD

Mix cubes of orange, wafer slices of banana, halved white grapes (carefully seeded) with GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE. Sprinkle generously with fresh grated cocoanut. Serve in orange cups.

ASPARAGUS SALAD

For each service use four canned asparagus tips, slipped through a beet ring (made by cutting center from a slice of cooked beet). Serve on watercress with GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE.

"Come out of the Kitchen"

"Double, Double! Toil and Trouble." Why spend one single minute in the kitchen making Mayonnaise? You stir and you stir and you stir. And then maybe the dressing curdles. Making your own used to be the only way you could get real, fresh-egg uncooked Mayonnaise.

But now that Boston homemakers are learning that the city of famous dishes has Best Foods GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE, watch them come out of the kitchen. For Gold Medal is truly home-made when it comes to the freshest eggs, finest of salad oils and rare seasonings. And not only is GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE made of the freshest ingredients—(its creamy color for instance is proof of the freshness of the eggs)—but it is made fresh daily and is delivered fresh by our fleet of speedy trucks to grocers throughout the city.

Just try Best Foods GOLD MEDAL today and as a change from lettuce, try it on cabbage salad, rich in vitamines.

CABBAGE SALAD

Cut head of cabbage in halves; cut out and shred the centers of the shells, chill thoroughly; mix the shredded cabbage with GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE and pile lightly in the cabbage shells. Garnish with pickled beets.

Best Foods GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE

PEAR SALAD

Have the plates and salad well chilled. Take the hearts of two heads of romaine, one very small bunch of watercress and a slice of pear for each plate. Serve with GOLD MEDAL MAYONNAISE.

JOIN DRIVE FOR NEW ENGLAND WORKERS

Efforts to obtain a grand prize of a completely furnished New England home, to be awarded to the person securing the largest number of members to the "New England Workers," are being made by the membership committee as one of the features of New England Week.

Those competing for the prizes must bring in members on or before the last day of New England Week (September 20.)

These prizes will be in eight orders, each for one hundred dollars worth of New England Goods to be selected by the prize winners in their local stores.

PRIZES IN 8 ORDERS.

The contest will be divided up as follows:

First—Four prizes each of $100 worth of New England products to the man, woman, boy under eighteen, and girl under eighteen, respectively, who secure the most "new" members in New England towns of over 2,000 inhabitants.

Second—Four prizes each of $100 worth of New England products to the man, woman, boy under eighteen, and girl under eighteen, respectively, who secure the most "new" members in the New England towns of less than 2,000 inhabitants.

Third—Four second prizes each of $25 worth of New England products for the man, woman, boy under eighteen, and girl under eighteen, respectively, who obtain the second greatest number of "new" members in New England towns of over 2,000 inhabitants.

MUST BE MEMBERS.

Fourth—Four second prizes each of $25 worth of New England prodduts for the man, woman, boy under eighteen, and girl under eighteen respectively who obtain the second greatest number of "new" members in New England towns of less than 2,000 inhabitants.

All contestants must themselves be members of the New England Workers.

A supply of ten buttons and pledge cards may be had at once to use in signing up new members by sending in a dollar to the Million New Members Committee, room 412, New Chamber of Commerce Building, Boston, Mass. More at the same rate may be obtained. Each contestant merely buys and sells the buttons.

'BLUE TUESDAY' FOR 126,000 HUB PUPILS

It was "Blue Tuesday" for the majority of 126,000 children in Boston today.

Schools reopened.

Despite the fact that they had enjoyed a long Summer vacation, child-like they mustered up but little enthusiasm for a return to the restrictions and inhibitions of school life.

The number in attendance today exceeded that of last year's record breaking enrollment by over 2,000.

Six new school districts have been provided, and it is expected there will be no shortage of school buildings this year.

Superintendent of Schools Jeremiah E. Burke stated that arrangements had been completed for the accommodation of all who wish to go to school. To accommodate the throng Boston has seventy-two school district with fifteen high schools and special vocational school.

HEAVY VOTE EXPECTED IN VERMONT PRIMARY

Montpelier, Vt., Sept. 9.—Vermont voters were expected to attend in unusually large numbers the opening of the polls for the biennial primary election. There are no Democratic contests. Lieutenant-Governor Franklin S. Billings is opposed by Roland T. Stevens of White River Junction for the gubernatorial nomination. J. Gregory Smith of St. Albans and W. H. Farnsworth of Burlington are disputing the Lieutenant-Governor nomination. Congressman E. W. Gibson is opposed for renomination by John A. Gordon of Barre.

JOHN W. DAVIS RESTS IN COLORADO VALLEY

Estes Park, Colo., Sept. 9. (A.P.)—At a retreat in a little valley in the Rocky Mountains, John W. Davis rested today after his strenuous campaigning in the West.

The ninety miles from Denver was made by automobile, and detour was taken in order that the candidate might greet crowds at Longmont and Loveland. He had not intended to make a speech, but he found such a large gathering at Loveland that he spoke briefly from the tonneau of his car after he had shaken hands with several hundred men, women and children.

$8,000 IN JEWELS STOLEN

Thieves Rifle Dressing Table in Exclusive South Dartmouth Dwelling

New Bedford, Sept. 9.—Jewels valued at about $8,000, the property of Mrs. Robert W. Ferguson, have been stolen from the home of her parents, Mr. and rMs. Oliver Ricketson, in the exclusive Ricketson's Point section of South aDrtmouth.

The jewels were taken from Mrs. Ferguson's dressing table, sometime between Saturday night and Sunday noon, according to Chief of Police Thomas W. Barnes of Dartmouth.

Sunday noon Mrs. Ferguson went to the jewel case on the dressing table to get one of the valuable pieces of jewelry contained therein and discovered the robbery.

The police were notified sometime later, and at once began an investigation that thus far has been barren of results. They have not determined as yet whether or not it was an inside job.

COLORED RESIDENT WARNED IN KLAN NOTES

New York, Sept. 3.—Staten Island police were not sure whether white owners of property in proximity to the home recently purchased by Samuel A. Browne, colored mail carrier, West New Brighton, or the Ku Klux Klan were responsible for an effort to make Browne move.

Several volleys of stones have damaged the windows of the letter carrier's home. A notice warning Browne against moving into the house was signed: "K. K. K." Policemen guarded the house yesterday.

LIBRARIAN DIED OF NATURAL CAUSES

Alexander Cross, librarian of No. 1428 Massachusetts avenue, Arlington Heights, found unconscious and dying, with a deep gash in his head in front of No. 50 Brimmer street, West End, died of natural causes according to Medical Examiner Magrath.

Cross was employed as librarian by Dr. Leroy G. Grandon of No. 10 Lime street. The doctor told the police that Cross was subject to heart attacks and had recently suffered several.

WHITE HOUSE ROACHES EXTERMINATOR VICTIMS

Washington, Sept. 3.—The bug exterminator has just paid the White House a visit and has left in his trail a mass of cockroach carcasses. There is no longer any bugs in the White House. The water insects inhabited the White House cellar. After their extermination had been completed carpenters tore out an old icebox and found nearly five pounds of dead insects behind it.

WEST YARMOUTH MAN FOUND HANGING IN HOME

West Yarmouth, Sept. 9.—The body of John Hill was found hanging in the attic of his home here by members of his family.

Relatives said that Hill, who was about fifty years old, had been ill for some time, and that despondency over his health probably was the cause of his act. He leaves a wife and three small children.

41 CAMERAS REPRODUCE SKY IN GERMAN MUSEUM

Munich, Sept. 10.—The "starry vault of heaven," with every constellation known to man moving in its celestial orbits, has been reproduced within the cupola of the newly erected German museum by means of a large orrery.

Forty-one projecting cameras will be used to construct the intricate movements of the heavenly bodies.

YOUTH HELD ON GIRL'S CHARGE OF MISCONDUCT

Worcester, Sept. 9.—Urban L. Braney, twenty-three years old, of Howe avenue, Millbury, was held in $1,000 for the grand jury in District Court on a misconduct charge. The complainant was Elizabeth Smith of No. 29 Hope avenue. Braney gave himself up at police headquarters on hearing a complaint had been issued.

SAVE BABY CAUGHT UNDER TROLLEY CAR

Thrown beneath the trucks of a trolley car while playing in front of her home in Cambridge, Dorothy Carney, two years old, was in eminent danger of death until she was rescued by firemen who jacked up the car and found she had suffered only minor bruises. The insets are of the rescuing firemen, John Stanton, William F. Bulger and F. H. Belcher, left to right, and of Dorothy herself.

SPECIAL GUARDS AS BOY SLAYERS HEAR FATE

Chicago, Sept. 9.—Final precautions were taken today to insure the orderly sentencing to death or life imprisonment tomorrow of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard A. Loeb for the kidnaping and murdering of Bobbie Franks.

Fifty policemen and scores of plain clothes men will be on duty at the Criminal Courts Building. The courtroom will be closed to spectators.

Because of many threatening letters received by Judge John R. Caverly, who will pronounce sentence, special precautions for safeguarding him will be taken.

Leopold was ready to make a wager today on the sentence Judge Caverly will pronounce on him and Loeb tomorrow. But a jailer interposed and told him rules of the jail would forbid.

EXPECTS NO MERCY.

The extreme seriousness of their situation will be borne in upon the prisoners tomorrow, according to Chief Bailiff Thomas Brockmeyer of the Criminal Court when each prisoner will go into court accompanied by two bailiffs, one on either side, instead of one.

When newspapermen called to see the prisoners today, Leopold asked one of his visitors what his opinion of the sentence was. The reply was "merciless." Then Leopold offered to make a wager.

Judge Caverly issued a statement in which he requested that public notice be given that his opinion will be given first to newspapermen in written form and that newspapers will appear on the streets with the sentence long before any of those outside could hear it from the courtroom. This, he hopes, will keep away crowds of curious.

PARENTS STAY AT HOME.

Far away from the drone of the courtroom will be the father and mother of one of the defendants—Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Loeb. On their Summer estate near Charlevoix, Mich., the father and mother will sit awaiting the tinkle of a telephone bell which will tell them whether their son shall forfeit his life.

They will be absent (from the courtroom because their physician has warned them that to be present might prove too great a shock for them to bear.

Nathan F. Leopold, Sr., and Foreman Leopold, a brother of Nathan, Jr., will be in court to represent young Leopold. They will be attended by Clarence S. Darrow and Benjamin and Walter Bachrach, defense attorneys.

Man Proposes, But Woman Makes Him

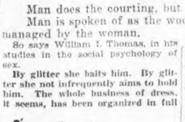
By MARTHA GRAY

Man does the courting, but woman controls the process!

Man is spoken of as the wooer, but falling in love is really managed by the woman.

So says William I. Thomas, in his studies in the social psychology of sex.

By glitter she baits him. By glitter she not infrequently aims to hold him. The whole business of dress, it seems, has been organized in full appreciation of this by men.

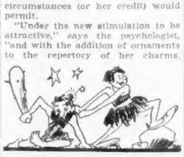


In primitive society, we are told, while it was one of the functions of the female to charm she had not the competitive problem of the modern femme. There was little chance that a primitive woman would go unmated.

FUSSY MALES.

But with the development of male initiative, he began to pick and choose with a degree of fastidiousness, and woman began to employ the art innate with her sex and flashed forth in all the glitter her circumstances (or her credit) would permit.

"Under the new stimulation to be attractive," says the psychologist, "and with the addition of ornaments to the repertory of her charms, woman has assumed an almost aggressive attitude toward courtship. The means of attraction she employs are so highly elaborated, and her technique is so finished, that she is really more active in courtship than man.



WOMAN CONTROLS.

"By dress, behavior, coquetry, modesty, reserve, and occasional boldness she gains the attention of the man, and infatuates him. He does the courting, but she controls the process."

One of the most powerful stimulations of either sex is glitter, in the most general sense, and the interest in showing off begins in the coloration and plumage of animals, and continues as ornament in the human species, the psychologist explains.

Originally, it was characteristic of man in particular. But woman has generalized it as a means of self-realization. She seeks it as a means of charming men, of outdoing other women, and as an artistic interest.

PITILESS DEMANDS.

Sometimes when a woman is married, we read in the study on sex psychology, she drops the display pose altogether and tends to lose herself in household interests and to become a slattern.

On the other hand she often makes marriage the occasion of display on a more elaborate scale, and is pitiless in her demands for the means to this end.

Woman is not to be censured too greatly for these frailties, we are told, nor are all women to be accused of sharing them. Some women follow the purely maternal bent, and become true and devoted and good to a degree hardly known by man.

Man offers so easy a mark, our authority admits, for woman's machinations as to invite exploitation; therefore, and again, woman is not to be criticized.

STRIKE OF CANADIAN TELEGRAPHERS LOOMS

Toronto, Ont., Sept. 9.—A strike vote by the men and a request to the Dominion Department of Labor for a conciliation board by the company, is the result of the meeting of the executives of the Canadian press and the general committtee of its telegraph operators in an effort to settle a wage dispute. Two months ago the men demanded another increase. To this the company replied by a notice of a decrease.

PULMOTOR FAILS TO SAVE LYNN GAS CO. EMPLOYE

William H. Moran of No. 52 Alley street, Lynn, 25 years a Lynn Gas & Electric plant gasometre drip attendant, was found overcome by gas near a gasometre in a shanty. Efforts of Sergt. Mucklan and Police Chauffeur Donovan, who worked for two hours with a pulmotor, failed to revive him. Besides his brother and sister with whom he made his home, he is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. Michael H. Cotter and Mrs. John C. Carroll, both of Lynn.

LITTLE CHILD NEAR DEATH UNDER CAR

Dorothy Carney, two and a half years old, of No. 40B Gore street, Cambridge, is in the Cambridge Relief Hospital with a crushed skull.

While playing in front of her home she fell beneath the trucks of a street car. Motorman Albert Eagan stopped the car just as the forward wheels touched the girl.

Her body was so tightly wedged between the car frame and the truck that it was necessary to jack the car to get at her. Fireman John Stanton of Engine 3, Cambridge, crawled under, and after fifteen minutes' work was able to free her.

MAN FINED $100 UNDER ALIEN FIREARMS LAW

Worcester, Sept. 9. — William Adamonis, forty-six years old, of Millbury, was fined $100 in District Court on a charge of having a revolver in violation of the alien firearms law. A charge of disturbing the peace was filed. Adamonis was arrested by Policeman Hall and McAvoy of Millbury, after they had been called to his house on complaint that the man was acting threateningly with a revolver. He offered no defense.

COTTON PRODUCTION LESS THAN LAST YEAR'S

Washington, Sept. 9.—Cotton has passed through the month of August with less deterioration than in that month last year and less than the average August of the last ten years, resulting in a forecast today by the Department of Agriculture of 12,787,000 equivalent 500-pound bales for this season's crop. That is 163,000 bales less than forecast for the condition of the crop in the middle of August, and 2,658,000 bales more than produced last year.

BOSTON FOLK ARRIVING ON OLYMPIC TODAY

Bringing more than 1,500 passengers, largely American tourists, the White Star liner Olympic is due at New York today, from Southampton and Cherbourg.

Prominent among the passengers are Post Wheeler, counselor of the American Embassy at London, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Milliken, Aymas Ames, Miss Arlene Ames, R. T. Gannett, Mrs. Henry W. Harris and William C. Harris of Boston.

NEEDS HIM FOR HER SUPPORT

Quincy Business Men Sign a Petition Asking Pardon for Bank Looter

A gray-haired widowed mother, grown feeble under the lash of her misfortunes, awaits today in her Quincy home for Governor Cox and his council to act on the request for a pardon for Luther R. Hanson, her son.

Hanson is serving nine years in State's Prison for looting the Market Trust Company of Brighton of $171,000. He has already served five and a half years.

His mother is ill and without support except that provided by a daughter, Hanson's crippled sister, a music teacher. Mrs. Hanson bore her trouble bravely until the main support of the family, George Hanson, another son, died last Easter.

Hanson's mother firmly believes today in the uprightness of her son, in spite of his once straying from the path of honesty. At her behest his friends have swarmed to his support.

WIFE GETS DIVORCE.

The young ex-bank clerk's wife, however, it was learned today has in the interim since his confession and sentence, quietly dropped from his life through the medium of the divorce court.

Mrs. Isabella Hanson, a woman of great beauty, who had been married to Hanson but a short time when he was arrested, staunchly defended him and protested his honesty until he himself told how he had turned the trick.

Hanson, in jail, made no effort to contest her suit. The divorce was granted in Suffolk County on the ground that the husband was serving a sentence of more than five years in prison.

Hanson's case today went to the Governor with a recommendation from Chairman Frank A. Brooks of the Parole Board. Forty-four Quincy men signed the petition for Hanson's release. A business man has agreed to employ him as bookkeeper.

EX-EMPLOYERS APPEAR.

Mrs. Emily Hanson, the mother, having been told of her son's excellent record as a prisoner, requested her minister, Rev. Howard K. Bartow, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, to help her. An attorney was hired and a hearing before the Parole Board arranged.

Hanson's mother has always claimed that another was more to blame than her son. A New York broker, a former Quincy resident, Charles K. Hogan, was only this year fined a small amount in connection with the case after a long battle in the courts.

Frank G. Newhall, who was chairman of the directors of the Trust Company at the time of Hanson's arrest, and Frank T. Johnson, an attorney who represented the bank in the prosecution, spoke for Hanson at the hearing.

Hanson, at present employed as clerk at the prison camp at Rutland, was taken to the State House to attend the parole hearing and greet the friends who are working for him.

FISHERMEN, MOURNED AS DEAD, RESCUED

St. John's, N. F., Sept. 9.—Dennis Drake and John Tibbo, fishermen, for whom memorial services were held in Grandbank after relatives had become convinced they had been lost at sea, are safe on the steamer Davidson, bound for Boston.

The Davidson sent a radio message today saying the two men, members of the crew of the schooner Winnifred Lee of Grandbank, had been picked up after being adrift in a dory for eighteen days.

FOURTH ESTATE LODGE OF MASONS VISITED

Following the customary vacation period, Fourth Estate Lodge, A. F. & A. M., reassembled in Masonic Hall, Charlestown, to hold its thirtieth communication, to confer degrees and to receive a visit from Rt. Wor. Gorham W. Walker, district deputy grand master, accompanied by Wor. Allen E. Newton, district deputy grand marshal.

Planned Own Funeral

London, Sept. 10.—Robert Price, who was buried recently at Brockton Baptist Cemetery, Worthen, Shropshire, made all his funeral arrangements last year, constructing and putting up his own tombstone.

BABE RUTH'S BAT KEEPS LETHARGIC YANKEES IN FLAG RACE

SENATORS FAVORED ON ROAD

By NICK FLATLEY.

SOME of the New York Yanks appear to be discouraged, probably from inhaling the dust of the Washington Senators, but while George Herman Ruth remains with the ball club, it will always be an even money pennant bet. The big boy has the heart of several lions, attached to the best batting mechanism nature has yet ground out, and as long as he's around in close ball games, the Yanks have the edge.

It's not news, of course, that the Bam is the most valuable individual any ball club ever owned, but in the fading end of a great race, his personality continues to eclipse all the other heroes of the diamond. The Babe is doing his stuff consistently, and pushing aside a sort of lethargy that the Yankees in toto are seriously threatened with. The club, after three years of glory, isn't any too responsive just when dash and steady fight are necessary for a fourth win. Perhaps that's natural. No team has ever won four pennants in a row. So the champions have traditions as well as a few tough ball clubs to overcome.

* * *

THE Senators, with consistently fine pitching, are apparently going to whirl at full speed down to the finish. They have passed the fluttering stage, and are accustomed to the idea of winning. They have the victory habit, peculiar in baseball, which inspires a team every now and then, and knocks the dope and the probalities into flinders. The D. C. boys must fight it out on the road with the Yanks. Both clubs got a big break when the Tigers fell apart before going home to wind up the campaign in their own bailiwick. The Washington entry should have a bit the best of things on the trails. The baseball world is pulling for a Senatorial win. The Yanks will be fought and nail wherever they show. Knocking off champs is one of things second division clubs are fondest of. The Senators will be battled vigorously, also. No favors are asked nor given in baseball. But the boys along the line will not feel so badly at being licked by the new leaders as they will at taking a lacing from the champs. They won't be out giving a little bit more than everything they have when Washington is present. And they will be crowding the Yanks every second. And little things like that count.

* * *

AS we started out to say, though, all that doesn't mean a thing in the life of G. H. Ruth. He keeps right on being a wonder at the bat, on the bases and in the field, and unless somebody shoots him, he'll keep the Yankees in there. He won the initial encounter in the present final series with the Red Sox by one of the most prodigious blows he ever unfolded. He wrecked a fine pitching afternoon for Curtis Fullerton, and saved Joe Bush from working his arm off, just for exercise. The Bambino, who gets most of his circuit clouts on fast balls, assaulted a slow curve to ruin Curtis. He did the dirty work in the eighth, just after Joe Dugan had cracked a hit through the box. He took his full Ruthian swing, and sent the onion soaring far into the clouds, reserved lately for the world fliers. The ball sailed like a golf shot, and finally came to rest more than half-way up the center field bleachers. The Boston gardeners didn't move out of their tracks. One look convinced them that the ball game was ending when the bat cracked. It was the Bam's first homer in Boston this year, and it made up for all the boo-ing the slugger assimilated on previous visits.

* * *

THE Yankees are present for three more conflicts, and the fans can have plenty of excitement during that time. The Fenway athletes don't like the Yanks much, and are quite likely to spill them any time. Even against the almost perfect pitching of Bush, the boys were trying all the time, and until the Ruth explosion, looked as if they might win out if it came down to an endurance test. It will take more than one homer to erase that spirit. Denny Williams, who was with the club in the Spring, played in left, and appeared to be a very good gardner. He made a double his first time up, the only solid hit off Bush, drew a pass, and cracked a couple of flies to centre. He handled several hard hit balls niftily out near the cliff. He looked like a chap who might help any ball club. He brings along an element of speed, something the Sox need badly.

Moe and Joe They Get the Dough---Sometimes

Moe got a bad break yesterday. He sunk a grand on Superlette, but the filly got a little dizzy chasing the leaders and did not even get a peek at the dough. It's a tough racket, lads, but Moe is climbing aboard one this afternoon that looks the real goods, if Shorty Wenrick doesn't spoil it with his deuce plunge. Balance $13,855.21.

ABE GOLDSTEIN STILL BANTAM CHAMPION

New York, Sept. 9 (Universal).—Abe Goldstein retained his title in his 15-round fight at the Queensboro Stadium. It was a fight that started off slowly and unfavorable to the champion. As it rolled on, Goldstein grew stronger and more confident and turned the tide of defeat into victory.

Goldstein fought a careful, [illegible]tious fight which didn't create much enthusiasm.

FIRPO 8 TO 5 FAVORITE TO BEAT WILLS

By DAVIS J. WALSH.

New York, Sept. 9.—Having gained the newspaper decision over his majesty, the law, in conniving to obtain a postponement of deportation proceedings until after the fight, Luis Firpo automatically became an 8 to 5 favorite today on Broadway to defeat Harry Wills at Jersey City on Thursday night.

That is, odds of 8 to 5 were offered but there were no takers in the immediate vicinity. The sharpshooters appear to esteem Wills' chances none too highly. They think the business is in the bag.

Firpo has the punch and the endurance of comparative youth. He also is reputed to be a tough citizen in heavy going, although the writer is somewhat disinclined to subscribe to this theory.

Wills has the speed and ring brains plus a punch that is as good as the next as long as his hands hold out and he is permitted to hit and hold at one and the same time.

On the question of Wills' ability to laugh off the punishment he has to take hangs the ultimate issue. A ring veteran of thirteen years standing, to say nothing of several times sitting—he hasn't dallied with a real puncher in recent years and may discover that he cares not at all for the crude, coarse work that only Firpo knows.

If he doesn't, however, the black man will win as surely as the dawn precedes sunset. Firpo isn't hard to beat in spite of the fact that Dempsey drew the decision just a bit fine.

On that occasion, however, the champion made the mistake of fighting a labor room, which was Firpo's meat and drink. It is hardly probable that Wills will make the same error.

But he must expect to be hit some during the early rounds and if he can't take it the thing will be over early.

From any angle one might care to view it, the fight is a laundry ticket. One might dope it one way and hunch it another and still lose. As the non-partisan political writer once remarked, there is much to be said on both sides.

WILLIAMS HAS BRIGHT FOOTBALL PROSPECTS

Williamstown, Sept. 9.—Prospects are bright for another winning football team at Williams College this Fall for many veterans will return when Head Coach Percy Wendell calls out candidates for initial practice on Sept. 11. Letter men will be found available for practically every position on the eleven.

Among the players of experience expected back are Fisher and Leete, ends; Surabian, Page and King, tackles; Frost, Farnsworth, Hackett and De Mortier, guards; Clark, center; Captain Bourne, Chandler, Mills, Clement, Popham, Beckwith and Perkins, backs.

Williams should present an especially strong attack this Fall for nearly all of the first and second string backfield men will be on hand again.

CHESS CHAMP PLAY FOR TITLE SATURDAY

New York, Sept. 9.—Carlos Torre, the nineteen-year-old Mexican chess expert and winner of the championship of the Western Chess Association at Detroit, has returned to New York. His next engagement is with Harold E. Jennings of Rochester, to play off the tie between them for first place in the annual championship tournament of the New York State Chess Association at Rochester. This match will probably take place at the rooms of the Marshall Chess Club, next Saturday. At Rochester these two young experts both won six games and drew two, finishing with totals of 7—1 each.

Greb-Tunney Go Tonight

Cleveland, Ohio, Sept. 9 (Universal).—Rain caused a postponement of the scheduled fight in which Gene Tunney, lightweight champion, and Harry Greb, middleweight champion, were to have met. It will take place tonight.

BANG UP CARD FOR CLOSING BIKE RACE

Nat Butler, manager of the Revere Cycle Track, promises to bring the local cycling season to a close next Saturday night with a bang-up card of racing. Practically every style of racing will be shown and the card will have at least three feature races.

Peter Moeskops, world's champion sprinter from Holland, whose brilliant racing the last two Saturday nights has earned for him the classification of "A Second Frank Kramer," has been signed for the big International Sweepstakes. Butler has also secured Arthur Spencer as one of the Hollander's opponents.

Spencer lost a match to Pete last Saturday at the Beach, but so close was the finish that spectators who saw the riders crossing the tape from an angle were of the opinion that Arthur was deprived of the honors.

Frank Kramer, Pat Logan and Jimmy Moran were the judges at the finish and their decision was for the Dutchman.

Manager Butler has lines out for two other star sprinters. Cecil Walker, the Australian, and Orlando Piani, Italian champ, are the men he is after. Today Nat expects to hear definitely whether this pair will be available for Saturday.

UMPIRE NAMES EASTERN LEAGUE ALL-STAR TEAM

Worcester, Sept. 9.—Hugh (Red) Rorty, leading arbiter of the Eastern League, has selected an all-star team from that circuit. Here it is:

WHITE SOX AND GIANT SCHEDULE ABROAD FIXED

Chicago, Sept. 9.—The Chicago White Sox and New York Giants will start their European tour Oct. 15, leaving Quebec that day and arrive in Liverpool Oct. 22. The first game abroad will be played in London Oct. 25. The next will be played in Paris on Sunday, Oct. 26.

NORFOLK WILL TRY TO K. O. M'CREARY TONIGHT

By JACK CONWAY.

KID NORFOLK and Battling McCreary will do their heavy socking at the Armory A. A.'s show at Mechanics Building tonight. Both warriors are on the scene of the conflict and eager to start their swatfest.

Norfolk Rolls-Royced into town accompanied by Leo Flynn, his manager. The Black Panther appeared in the best physical condition. He declared he would knock out McCreary inside of five rounds and then be prepared to tackle Harry Greb in a return match.

McCreary is just as confident as Norfolk. He has prepared himself carefully for the mill and will set a lively clip all the way.

Norfolk and McCreary are both aggressive and heavy hitters. All of which should mean plenty of action for the fans.

If Norfolk wins, he will probably tackle Greb in a return engagement. A victory for McCreary means an opportunity to test his punching power against that of Quintin Romero Rojas, Chilean champion.

* * *

THERE is considerable interest in the semi-final of ten rounds which will be between Lou Paluso of Salt Lake City and Billy Murphy of Lowell. It will be the second meeting between these brilliant boxers. At Lowell several months ago Murphy outpointed Paluso. The latter, always a big Boston winner, is out to reverse the result this p. m. A large delegation of Lowell fans will journey to Boston to witness this encounter.

* * *

NEWSBOY BROWN oof Sioux City, Iowa, will have Wee Willie Woods as an opponent in another ten-round event. Woods recently knocked out Eddie Polo for the second time. He also made a creditable showing against Villa. In Brown, Woods will be opposed by one of the leading flyweights in the West. Those who have seen Brown work out in this city have been much impressed by his ability.

Al Bergeron of New Bedford and Joe Acceta of Providence will produce the thrills in a ten-round event which will open the show.

* * *

BARNEY SNYDER has resumed training and will be prepared to tackle any of our local bantamweights within three weeks. Snyder is directing his heavy ammunition against Eddie Devine, Sammy Fuller and other local fistic lights.

* * *

THERE will be a large delegation of New England fans at the ringside when Luis Firpo and Harry Wills clash at Boyle's Thirty Acres in Jersey City on next Thursday night. Big fellows are always popular with the fans. Everybody likes to be down front when the big punches go over.

* * *

JACK SHARKEY, who has been having his injured hands treated, will take in the Firpo-Wills tussle. He figures he will get a few pointers which will be of assistance to him if he is able to secure a return match with Quintin Romero Rojas.

Jack Conway Picks Norfolk and Paluso to Win Tonight

Jack Conway, holder of the world's record for picking winners, handed out the following dope on the Armory A. A. show tonight:

"I am picking Kid Norfolk to win over Battling McCreary," says Jack. "Each boxer has a win to his credit and as a result the 'rubber' contest this evening should be a spirited affair.

"In the semi-final, Lou Paluso is our choice over Billy Murphy."

AMERICA AND ENGLAND OPEN BATTLE FOR POLO CUP

U. S. TEAM PICKED TO WIN

New York, Sept. 9 (A P). — The opening skirmish for international polo honors between the United States and Great Britain, postponed from last Saturday because of wet grounds, is slated to take place this afternoon at the Meadow Brook Club, Westbury, Long Island

Unless the weather again upsets plans for the start of the series for the historic international challenge cup, the game will begin at 4 o'clock with a colorful crowd of 40,000, including the Prince of Wales, as the background for one of the most picturesque of sport spectacles. The second game is scheduled for next Saturday, and a third, which will be played regardless of the outcome of the other two, probably will take place September 17

LACEY OUT.

America's "big four" will ride into the fray today an even stronger favorite than before last week's postponement. Instead of benefitting by the few days' delay, the British combination suffered fresh misfortune when its star and captain, Louis L. Lacey, Anglo-Argentine back, contracted shingles and will be out of the opening lineup This mishap, the climax of a series that has followed the Britishers, necessitated an eleventh-hour shift in the invaders lineup and further reduced their prospects of victory

Against the powerful Yankee four, captained by Devereux Milburn, veteran of five international campaigns, the British will put forward a makeshift combination composed of Majors Kirkwood, Phipps Hornsby, [illegible] and Atkinson

[illegible] place at back, where he was expected to bear the brunt of British attack and defense, has been taken by Atkinson, with Phipps-Hornsby moving in at No. 2 to replace Hurndall, now at his old place at No. 3, where he will be acting captain

SECOND MISFORTUNE.

Lacey's illness followed a previous injury to his shoulder which had kept him out of practice for about two weeks. He may be in condition to play the second game, it was said today. But if so it is doubtful whether he will be able to attain the form which made him the most feared of the challenging forces

Supporters of the British cause however, are not altogether discouraged. They recall that ten years ago, when the British were accorded little chance, they scored a startling upset by taking two straight games and breaking the reign of America's famous original "Big Four," led by Henry Payne Whitney.

MEDFORD OUT TO RETAIN GRID TITLE

Fifty-five Medford high football candidates reported to Coach James Mansfield yesterday at Fulton street grounds. Medford [illegible] will open its season—September 2[illegible] against Arlington high eleven at Medford

Last season Medford won both the Suburban League and State grid [illegible] but one game all season. This year even with only two [illegible] returning Coach Mansfield [illegible] Medford can repeat

PUNTING GREAT AS EVER.

[illegible] quarterback whose punting featured Medford's [illegible] season, donned the [illegible] day and barked the signals for the first team

Yesterday he got off punts that were good for fifty yards and he looks greater than ever. He was chosen as all scholastic quarterback [illegible] Boston newspapers

The other veteran that reported was Captain "Nuddie" Mander, brilliant end.

BACKFIELD SIZED UP.

Many good prospects donned uniforms yesterday. Ed Herb, the husky Medford fullback, and Bud Edgarly and Marrio Manfre, a combination of hard running halfbacks, reported. Coach Mansfield intends to start this quartet against Arlington.

Among the line prospects were Pete Nichols, Edgar Michelson, Charles Elliot, Red Mulkern and several other lads who hope to fill the vacant berths

Coach Mansfield will hold practice sessions daily and in two weeks time things should be running smoothly at Fulton street grounds. Will they repeat?

MIAMI RACING TO LAST 51 DAYS

Miami, Fla., Sept. 9.—A new Winter playground will greet visitors to Miami during the coming season. Less than a year ago, possibilities for racing were seen here, and today a racing plant that has cost $500,000 is practically completed

Men prominent in the business, professional and sporting world have subscribed the money necessary for building the track

Norman E. Mack, newspaper owner and Democratic National Committeeman of Buffalo, and Clarence D. Newton, former Attorney-General of New York, were the first men interested in the project. They brought Joseph M. Smoot of Buffalo into the proposition, who obtained a charter from the Governor of the State for the Miami Jockey Club. Within two months of the time the charter was granted work on the new plant had been started.

Luke A. Cassidy, who has had many years' experience in the building and conduct of race tracks, as the general manager of the track announces that date for the race meeting to open January 15 next, to run for fifty-one days, closing on March 14

NEW YORK A. C. GAMES TO BE HELD SEPT. 20

Entry blanks have been issued by the New York Athletic Club for the annual Fall games to be held at Travers Island, Pelham Manor, N. Y., on Saturday, September 20.

The events scheduled are a 120-yard run, 300-yard run, 1,000-yard run, one-mile run, one-mile walk, putting sixteen pound shot, running high jump, running broad jump, throwing the discus, throwing 56 pound weight, all of which are limited handicap events

The two-mile national A. A. U. steeplechase championship also will be decided.

AMERICAN SIX-METER YACHTS EVEN UP SERIES

Oyster Bay, Sept. 9.—United States turned the tables on Great Britain in the international six meter races, winning the second brush by 19 points to 16¼. As Great Britain was the winner on Saturday each nation now has a leg on the series. The final winner will be the team that first scores in four races.

SULLIVAN TO REFEREE WILLS-FIRPO STRUGGLE

New York, Sept. 9.—Danny Sullivan of Newark, has been named referee of the Wills-Firpo heavy weight bout by the New Jersey Boxing Commission

Sullivan has officiated at numerous championship battles and is reputed to be unusually efficient in making fighters hustle while in the ring

VILLA-GENARO BOUT TO BE HELD SEPT. 23

New York, Sept. 9.—The Pancho Villa Frankie Genaro flyweight title match, originally scheduled for the Nostrand A. C. in Brooklyn last Thursday night, but postponed when Genaro developed a sudden illness, will be held Tuesday, Sept. 23, the State Athletic Commission decided.

Dartmouth Gridmen Have a Long Hard List of Battles

Hanover, N. H., Sept. 9.—Dartmouth College football team will be called upon to go through one of the toughest of schedules ever drawn up for the Green gridmen

The first game comes early in the season with Norwich University the opposition, on the Hanover field Sept. 27. The second game is with the Canadian team from McGill University on October 4 at Hanover

McGill always gave the Dartmouth Outing Club enough to worry about on a snow field, and this year they will [illegible] their wares on the [illegible] field

Despite the fact that the University of Vermont has [illegible] veterans returning [illegible] season Coach Keady [illegible] that his pupils will throw [illegible] into the Green ranks [illegible] over

PLENTY TO WORRY GREEN

The [illegible] game [illegible] the trying period for the [illegible] to worry about. The Green [illegible] with Yale [illegible] Harvard at Cambridge [illegible] Brown at Hanover Nov. 1 [illegible] sity at Hanover Nov. 8 and [illegible] winding up the season at the Polo Grounds Nov. 15 with Cornell.

The majority of the men returning to Hanover to be ready to report for the early training are members of last year's Fresh outfit and consequently inexperienced in varsity tactics.

However, there are a number of men from the Junior class who have had a chance to get the feel of varsity ways, and the team will undoubtedly receive its greatest help from this class

It is difficult to dope a line-up early in the season and a guess is the best we can offer here. Some of the men are certain of their places, Captain Hank Bjorkman will remain at his wing position; Swede Oberlander will fill his job at tackle and Dutch Dhiel has nothing much to worry about for his guard rating, although Nate Parkre and Bob Sweetser will keep him jumping, and that is all that is in any way certain concerning the linemen

PLENTY FRESH MATERIAL

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicines. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. Through the change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms, hot flashes, insomnia, etc.—and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial." Mrs. H. L. BRADFORD, 1st Armstead St., Phoebus, Va.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

A recent canvass reports 98 out of every 100 women are benefited by

SEQUEL OF CHICKIE

By Elenore Meherin

Follow Here the Joys and Sorrows of This Boston Girl You All Meet Every Day

"YOU can always count on me for that. Vows and promises make us slaves to the moods of yesterday. That's one reason why I disapprove of marriage. Who can know that in two years, five months and seven days from the present she shall still love John Doe, still yearn for his bald head opposite her at the table?

'Well—I phoned yesterday and Thursday your charming friend Mrs. o stated 'Janina is not here and I'm not sure when she'll be in.' How come my dear? And whither goest thou every night in the week?"

Chickie said abruptly: "I've left, Janina." The moment the words were out, she felt smothered, almost unable to breathe.

Janina put down her napkin—her mouth straightened and [illegible]

"Why?"

"[illegible] found out about me."

"[illegible]" She pushed her plate. "Do you mean to say, Chickie, that you turned yellow and walked out?"

"No—I was asked to leave. I had no [illegible]." And she told Janina. And she took out the letter of recommendation and showed it.

Janina smoothed the [illegible] Her eyes smouldered as [illegible] She said: "You can paste it together."

"I don't know what you mean—" [illegible]

[illegible] And it means that [illegible]

[illegible]ded Her Hands

[illegible]

What did they want at such [illegible] to leave or to give [illegible] you tainted [illegible]

[illegible] sentence Miss Stimson [illegible] No one has [illegible] that if done by an woman, shake the foundations of the whole [illegible]"

"Bunk! That's just what we're doing at! Shake down the old order—hand up the new. Lordy, we need it. What is the moral law anyway that but a question of expedience? A question [illegible] That's all [illegible]

"All what has the moral law got to do with the inner [illegible]? You don't hear [illegible] against a woman selling her [illegible] for money, do you? [illegible] course, she wears a white [illegible] a veil on the day the transaction is made.

All Bunk

"All bunk, ole thing! All surface! What you did was right enough! Don't let any one kid you out of it. It's what you're getting that's wrong. Let me tell you the world is more to live up to than you [illegible] I have to live down."

Chickie leaned over to Janina. Her lips were ghastly, they were [illegible] white. "Janina—if you had a daughter would you want her to do as I did?"

Janina hesitated and wouldn't answer.

"You wouldn't! And it was selfish. If you excuse every other phase you'll still have to say it was selfish at [illegible] the end we always cheat [illegible] when it's [illegible] of course we wish to serve."

"We're born selfish, [illegible]."

"We don't have to remain selfish—"

"I don't know about that! Put a yacht on the waters, fling out its sails, then let the wind spring up—off goes your boat. It's made that way. Same with us! Victims of the life forces all of us, if just the tide runs high enough and we happen to get in the way—"

"We can keep our eyes open, Janina and run when the tide is rising."

"If we're that cautious—yes—better still, grab off a marriage license. Then it's all right! That's what gets my goat on the proposition. Nothing wrong with the tide but only with lack of the one who rides it.

"And that's what makes me so sick with these judgments. They can't condemn the deed you did But only the consequence. That's why I'm scot free today and you are handed a letter with paragraphs like that. Isn't it a joke?"

Cheeks Scarlet

"Well, it would be if it happened to me. I'd take that letter and flounce it down as cool as you please before the head of every hospital in the city. I'd laugh in their faces and ask if they ate when they were hungry, shivered when they were cold, and, as our poor Shylock adds—do they grin when they're tickled! I'll go with you, Chickie."

Chickie reached over and twitched the letter impatiently from under Janina's hands. From an utter pallor, her cheeks were now scarlet, her eyes hot. . . .

She said faintly: "It means a thing or two, Janina, to lose twenty pounds and everything—"

"You want [illegible]—Chickie—I'm sure there's some place where they have sense enough to live in the twentieth century. Well—anyway —[illegible]"

"Yes. I [illegible] I've only [illegible] $10 a [illegible] for nearly two years—well—I'm about broke—"

Janina looked down and very [illegible] folded her napkin. She said [illegible] "How's Jake? You [illegible]"

[illegible]

"And [illegible] What [illegible] and Good [illegible]

[illegible] was [illegible] friend [illegible]

[illegible] Then Janina laughed [illegible]

"I didn't get here at twelve."

"Logical enough. You got the credentials all right?"

"Yes—I got them."

"Fine. Then you'll see Mrs. Ellis Monday between two and three. I told her you were coming."

"Oh—did you? I've changed my plans. I won't be able to go Monday."

"Why?"

Can't Explain

It came so quietly she had no answer and hedged: "I can't explain—but you know—"

[illegible] rosy with anxiety, was [illegible] standing in the doorway, twisting her apron in her hands. She didn't mean to pry. She was merely excited and curious.

Chickie, now warm with nervousness, repeated: "I've just decided on something else—"

"Do you mean that you don't wish to transfer?"

"Not exactly."

"What is it that you've decided on?"

She pressed her mouth hard against the phone—unable, for a moment, to command the slightest word. Finally she said in a faint, half despairing tone: "It's just as I told you before. I don't think

BOBBIE AND HIS PA

By W. F. Kirk

LAST nite I burned my finger on the kitching range & it hurt like the dickings & I cried littel.

Poor littel Bobbie, said Ma.

Well, sed Pa, after this he will be moar cairful. A burned chile dreds the fire, sed Pa.

That is a terribul old chestnut, sed Ma.

Pa's face got as red as my finger ware it was burned.

It seems to me that nearly everything I say is a old chestnut, sed Pa, to heer you talk.

No, deer, sed Ma, but when Bobbie's finger is hurting him you shud cumfurt him, sed Ma, & not be telling about burned chillern dredding the fire.

What maiks it hurst wen you put yure finger on a hot stove? I sed.

Well, Bobbie, sed Pa, I will X-plane it. When a stove is hot, sed Pa the moley-kules in thot stove are jumping up & down like litening & if you put yure finger thare, sed Pa, thay strike yure finger milyuns of littel blows like littel hammers, sed Pa, which maiks the pane & the blister.

Yure father is rite, Bobbie, sed Ma, that is what we lerned in skool.

Of course I am rite, sed Pa. I am always rite in such matters like Science, sed Pa.

What is moley-kules, ho? I sed.

Moley-kules, Bobbie, sed Pa, is the littel atoms wich maiks up matter, sed Pa. They are too small to see with eeven a strong mikryscope, sed Pa.

Am I all full of moley-kules? I sed.

I shud say you are, Bobbie, sed Pa, & sum of them are pritty meen little moley-kules, too.

Is the mole on my neck made of moley-kules, I sed.

Is a miser made of the saim moley-kules as a good fellow, Pa? I sed.

No Bobbie, sed Pa, a miser is jest one littel moley-kule. Good fellows are made of milyuns of moley-kules.

Well, I sed, after this I will keep away from the stove wen them moley-kules is jumping around like what you say, I sed.

Yes, Bobbie, sed Ma, as yure wise father so wisely sed in his wisdum, sed Ma, a burned chile dreds the fire.

Bobbie, sed Pa, sum words stings us & hurts us worser than a milyun moley-kules in a red hot stove, sed Pa, & you bet that made Ma feal kind of cheep.

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury

BROKEN engagements are becoming so common that the average girl won't accept a fellow any more unless he has a recommendation from his last sweetheart.

SHE likes to find out what kind of diamond rings he gives and how long it takes him to pay for them.

ONE dame was madly in love with a fellow, but she had to give him the air because he wasn't a good dancer.

HE wore first class shoes, but they were filled with second class material.

IT was her own fault that she became engaged to him. She accepted him on his own recommendation.

SHE thought he was all right because he spoke very highly of himself.

A DIAMOND on her finger is worth two in his pocket.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. F. X. Mahoney,
Boston Health Commissioner.

Dr. Mahoney

I HAVE just come in from the crowded street. There I saw a strong muscular young man, evidently the father of the child of two, whom he was leading, literally dragging, at a pace that made the poor little tot scream with pain.

"Pick up that child and carry it!" I commanded.

"Whose child is this?" he demanded indignantly.

"Yours, I presume. But that child is not yours to abuse in that way."

"That's right sir!" broke in a benevolent-faced woman. "I've been wanting to say that to him for the last four blocks. I've followed him and the way he drags that child is enough to pull its arms out."

The crowd had gathered by this time. It scowled. The man, seeing his plight, said "Oh, all right"—and picked up the child.

"I'll go along and see that he keeps on carrying it," said the benevolent-faced woman.

Within two blocks of the same place I encountered a woman leading one child of about four and dragging along a screaming infant of less than half that age. The little child was stretching its tiny legs in its painful efforts to keep up. I was cut off from her by the traffic, but I could see her a half-block off still dragging the screaming martyr.

It ought not to be necessary to remind parents that a child's flesh is tender, that its legs are short and that its endurance is slight.

The two children that I have just written about will have sore muscles and sore joints tomorrow morning. When they move or are moved they will cry. Their parents will probably give them a "good shaking" or a "good spanking" for being "cross."

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Can a prolapsed stomach be cured?
W. G. A.

The general outline of treatment for your trouble is a course of exercises which are designed to strengthen the muscles of the abdominal wall. Belts are not of much help in this condition. Be careful not to take liquids with your meals and not too much liquid at one time.

My skin is infected with whiteheads.

Try washing your face before going to bed and applying two or three hot towels. Then rub in a good cold cream. Be very careful of your diet and take moderate exercise in the fresh air.

FINANCE

By B. C. Forbes

Walking along certain streets in London you find it hard to realize that you are not in an American city, so many of the stores and offices bear the names of American concerns.

My first visit in London was to Bush House, the very chaste, attractive building erected in the heart of the city by Irving T. Bush, the Brooklyn lad who went through heartbreaking hardships in the early years of his struggle to transform a dream into what is now the world-famous Bush terminal in Brooklyn, an enterprise offering unique water, rail and factory facilities.

As you enter this London structure you note, on the right, a branch of the Guaranty Trust Company and on the left a branch of the Equitable Trust Company, both leading New York financial institutions. And you find other familiar American concerns located throughout the building.

* * *

Within a stone's throw, as you walk along Kingsway, you pass stores or offices displaying the names of such well-known American organizations as Woolworth, Kodak, Ingersoll Watch, International General Electric, Mergenthaler Linotype, Art Metal Construction, Waterman's Fountain Pen, Fort Wayne Tank & Pump, International Western Electric, Armour & Company Worthington Pump, Texas Company, Dennison Manufacturing, Palmolive Soap, National Cash Register.

* * *

By and by you observe offices of the three great New York insurance companies, The Equitable Life, The New York Life and the Mutual Life. It may be remarked, however, that certain American insurance companies, because of the limitation now set by law upon the amount of new business they may write each year, are preparing either to curtail or cease doing business abroad. Apparently home business is found more profitable.

* * *

Other prominent nearby signs proclaim that places are occupied by Westinghouse Electric, Conde Nast (the American publisher), The Comptometer Company, The International Combustion Engineering Corporation, and The U. S. Shipping Board, while in another brief space you find the Aluminum Company of America, the Monroe Calculating Machine, Corn Products Refining, and the U. S. Department of Commerce.

* * *

It is almost as easy to find an American bank in London as it is in New York or Chicago or Boston or Philadelphia or San Francisco.

The Guaranty Trust has three offices, the Farmers' Loan and Trust, two, the Equitable Trust, two, the National City Bank, two, the National City Company, one, the Bankers' Trust Company, one, the Empire Trust, one, with such old-fashioned private banking firms as J. P. Morgan & Company, Brown Brothers and several others.

* * *

Paris has also been strongly invaded by American financial institutions. One of the most prominent signs in the very heart of Paris, just across from the city's famous opera house, is that of the Equitable Trust Company.

* * *

Wherever you travel in Europe during the Summer months you run into Americans. How easily the foreigners spot us. Several times in London, when I asked the price of an article in a store, the reply, in pounds, was accompanied by the explanation that the amount was equal to such-and-such a number of dollars, and my wife didn't feel flattered in Paris, when, after employing her very best French, she was immediately told how much an article cost in dollars.

NEW ENGLAND'S GOODS WORTH BOOSTING

By FRANK H. MELOON, Financial Editor.

If you believe in boosting New England products, why not boost them?

Boosting New England begins at home.

If you are a member of a board of trade or a chamber of commerce, you should do your part in seeing to it that the praiseworthy products and the good goods of your home city or town get their due amount of publicity.

I know of one inventor who contrived and manufactured what I believe was the most serviceable umbrella ever placed before the public. You can't buy that umbrella today. It was never properly introduced.

This case is not an isolated one. New England is the home of inventions. Every grammar school pupil knows that; but a great many New England products have fallen by the wayside, perhaps never to rise again, because they were not properly introduced.

There is room in these Northeastern States for a great "University of New England" to instruct us about our home products and manufactures.

* * *

Requiescant in pace, everyone knows cemetery Latin.

I notice at the main entrance to the South Station that preparation for additional stores has led to the covering up of the names of the men who made the great Boston terminal possible. These names, engraved in the marble walls, were apparently there for everyone passing by to see as long as the walls lasted; but the business instinct has decreed otherwise.

* * *

Coming into Boston from my Summer place on the South Shore this morning I noticed the South American sea fighter just in at Fore River, where she was constructed, with her national flag flying from her forepeak. It was especially a welcome sight, as the work on the Rivadavia and her sister craft will mean employment for upwards of 3,000 men for about two years at the famous Quincy shipbuilding works.

The Argentine Rivadavia will be changed from a coal to an oil burner. A new fire-control system also will be installed. The Rivadava took 36 days on the voyage from Buenos Aires. Her ammunition is being taken off in lighters to be stored while the ship is in the yard. Repairs will require about nine months.

BETTERMENT IS SHOWN FOR BOSTON & MAINE

Although preliminary figures of of August operating revenues of the Boston & Maine have not yet been arrived at, enough is known to indicate that freight gross will show a gain over the $3,722,942 reported in July. Passenger earnings increased as might be expected with the heavier summer passenger movement.

An encouraging feature of August operations was the heavier car loadings on the Boston & Maine lines, a fairly substantial increase being shown over July. Cars received from connections showed no material change during the month. August net ton miles increased about 5 per cent. over the July total.

The number of freight cars on the lines in August showed no important changes as compared with July, ranging between 28,000 and 29,000 a day.

BUYING BETTER IN HARDWARE

"Moderate improvement in buying continues throughout the hardware markets. Future orders are being placed by jobbers and retailers in larger volume and a wider variety of items are in demand than has been the case for several months. No major price changes were made during the week," Hardware Age, in its weekly market summary, will say tomorrow.

"Some manufacturers are issuing prices for the Spring of 1925 on seasonable goods, but Spring prices have been announced slowly this year and jobbers say there is no justification for believing that price levels next year will be lower than they were in 1924.

"Although current staple orders are fairly numerous, the volume is small, and jobbers do not expect any substantial increase in buying until after the election, although retail stocks are small."

MELLON FINDS BUSINESS IN U. S. IS IMPROVING

Business conditions in the United States are improving, in opinion of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon. While the movement is perhaps slow, it is in the right direction. He indicated recent heavy purchases of steel as showing this, and expressed opinion that business is advancing in every direction compared with the situation as it appeared before he went abroad in the early part of the Summer.

FORD SALES REFLECT GAINS FOR BUSINESS

Business conditions of the country generally show decided improvement, according to August sales reports of Ford Motor Co. Retail sales of Ford cars and trucks for the last ten days of August exceeded by more than 900 a day those of the previous ten days.

SMALL STEEL TONNAGE GAIN

Indications are that unfilled orders of United States Steel Corporation as of August 31, to be published at noon Wednesday, will show little change from 3,187,072 tons reported as of July 31. While some interests are looking for a small decrease, there are others who appear rather confident that an increase will be shown. Although it is admitted by all that the change, whatever way it may be, will be confined to less than 50,000 tons, nevertheless, at the moment a majority of well informed interests appear to favor an increase.

Even a small increase would be a good showing, when it is remembered the Corporation increased its shipments substantially in August over the outgoing rate for July. It is known gain in deliveries amounted to between 18 per cent. and 20 per cent. for entire month.

American Locomotive

American Locomotive has received orders for twenty-five 165-ton Mikado engines and ten 144-ton Pacifics from Missouri Pacific, nine 63-ton Mikados from Sorocabana Railway of Brazil, and for general heavy repairs to twenty-five 220-ton Mallets from Chesapeake & Ohio.

Wall St. Gossip

AUGUST OUTPUT of steel ingots in United States approximated 2,541,501 tons, against 1,869,416 in July.

E. ATKINS & Co. advanced refined sugar 15 points to 7.40 cents.

FAMOUS PLAYERS declared regular quarterly $2 preferred dividend, payable November 1 to stock of record October 15. Books do not close.

ANOTHER STRUCTURE in northwestern Colorado has been proved oil-bearing by Midwest Refining Pioneer well on Iles Dome.

APPERSON AUTOMOBILE leased physical property of Haynes Auto Co. for five years, with privilege of renewal for additional five years.

CHICAGO GREAT Western handled 29,642 revenue freight cars in August, against 26,182 in July and 28,681 in August of last year.

STOCK PRICES ADVANCE IN WALL ST.

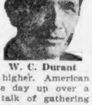
American Water Works and General Electric opened up 4 or more points, while American Can started up 3 and W. C. Durant, "native" Boston auto wizard, added to his $2,000,000 reported paper profit in U. S. Cast Iron Pipe when that issue opened 2½ points higher.



W. C. Durant

U. S. Steel started 1⅛ to 1⅜ higher. American Woolen began the day up over a point. There is talk of gathering in some of the shorts in woolen, perhaps based partly on the fact that this has been successfully achieved in days gone by.

Prices had been on the down grade for about 2 weeks with the result that approximately one-third of the advance registered since the bull movement started in June had been cancelled. The decline was attributed in many quarters to political uncertainties with speculations over the result of the Maine elections as an important factor.

The opening was one of the liveliest since the one following the unexpected declaration of an extra dividend by the United States Steel Corporation last Fall.

Famous Players and Overland preferred each gained 2 points and Baldwin, N. Y. Central, Colorado Fuel, Marine preferred and DuPont were among the many issues to open a point or more higher.

The demand for stocks also received stimulus from reports of an increased demand for Steel, the segregation of the coal properties of the Pittsburgh & West Virginia Railway, which is believed to be the forerunner of the absorption of that road by the new "Nickel Plate" system, and indications that the government issue of $360,000,000 treasury certificates at 2⅝ per cent., the lowest government financing rate since the war, would be readily absorbed.

The market swung into a spirited rally as transactions of 1,000 shares or more reflected the heavy volume of buying orders. The advance was accelerated by active short covering which was added to heavy purchasing for long account by interests who had been awaiting the result of the Maine election.

Gains of 3 points or more were recorded by National Lead, West Penn Power and Chandler, which later reacted.

The upturn in the rail shares was led by Union Pacific, Lackawanna, New York Central, "Nickel Plate" and Norfolk & Western. Pittsburgh & West Virginia preferred reached a new high at 104¼ following announcement that the issue had been called for redemption at 105. One-point gains were well distributed throughout the entire list.

In trading on the Boston Stock Exchange, point or better gains were recorded for Old Dominion, Island Creek Coal and Mohawk, while Calumet & Hecla and Copper Range were advanced major fractions. Eastern Steamship yielded a point at 45.

MORE SOUTHERN MILLS RUNNING ON FULL TIME

Columbus, Ga., Sept. 9.—The eleven cotton mills in and around Columbus have been running only part time to keep their organizations. Six have gone back to full time operations and two of these are running overtime. President Bradley of Bradley Cotton Company sees an improvement in conditions, and three of the company's mills have just started on full time, and one is still on short time. Mills of this town normally consume 150,000 bales a year.

Vice-President Hunt of First National Bank says that while mills have been running short, due to lack of demand for goods, all are in good financial condition. Not only the cotton mills, but the whole ndustrial outlook here is good. Stone & Webster, who have a $5,000,000 dam in the Chattanoochee River, which here forms the boundary between Georgia and Alabama, are putting $7,000,000 into another one to furnish power for surrounding towns.

CONS. TEXTILE PLANS NEW STRUCTURE

Consolidated Textile Corporation has consummated a plan for strengthening its capital structure. Plan effects complete retirement of all current bank debts and places the company in position of having no obligations maturing in less than five years.

A new selling company to be called Consolidated Selling Co., has been formed to sell the goods of Consolidated Textile Corporation with paid-in capital of $2,000,000. F. K. Rupprecht has been elected president.

Contrary to published reports, there is no intention of liquidating Converse & Co., which continues as a subsidiary of B. B. & R. Knight, Inc., and is in sound financial shape to carry out all its existing contracts.

NEW YORK FACTORY EMPLOYMENT STEADIES

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Recession in factory employment appears to have touched bottom. Several important reductions were reported in New York State factories in August, but there were enough increases so that total employment went no lower. This is the first time any significant increases have been reported since March.

Important decreases in August came in manufacture of building materials. Increases were in wood products, such as furniture and pianos, and leather goods. Shoes, belt and bag factories increased production, except a few large factories where employment kept up well throughout the recession.

INCREASED DEMAND FOR FREIGHT CARS SEEN

Further increased demand for transportation facilities is causing continued reduction in the number of surplus freight cars in good repair and immediately available for use, although this increase in traffic being handled without difficulty.

Surplus freight cars on August 22 totalled 258,271, a decrease of 20,205 compared with the number August 14. Car shortage for the country as a whole was only 90 cars on August 22 compared with 192 on August 14.

Conley Tin Foil

Conley Tin Foil stockholders voted to dissolve corporation, and officers and directors were instructed to wind its affairs up.

STATE HAS FEW COMPLAINTS IN STOCK SALES

The amendment to the blue sky law regulating sale of securities, which was passed in the closing hours of the last Legislature, is in effect this week.

The law as now amended provides that all contracts for purchase of stock or other securities on the partial payment plan must be reviewed by the Public Utility Commission.

It further provides that whenever a customer has paid on account of the stock to be purchased, he must receive stock equal to that amount of money.

The new law also gives the commission control over stock salesmen. It provides that after October 1 persons who wish to sell stock either as brokers or salesmen must give the commission any information desired. If the commission decides the applicant is not a proper person to engage in the business of stock selling, it may refuse to allow the applicant to act as broker or salesman of securities.

State officials declare the law has worked wonders in the few years it has been in effect in closing loopholes which have existed. Very few complaints come to the State House now about crooked salesmen.

GOOD YEAR FOR WARREN BROS.

The fiscal period is far enough advanced to warrant the statement that Warren Brothers Co. will have a good year in 1924. Whether the net earnings available for dividends will equal the $664,000 after taxes secured in 1923 it is a little early to predict.

This sum was equal to $9.66 a share after preferred dividends on the 53,091 shares of common outstanding at the end of 1923, but of course, the number of common shares has since been increased by bond conversions.

There are now outstanding 76,689 shares of common, but since the first of the year the 7½ per cent. convertible bonds have been reduced in amount from $1,854,000 to $1,212,000, thereby cutting down fixed charges.

Warren Brothers Co. and its licensees have been awarded contracts this year up to Sept. 4 totaling 6,402,000 square yards. Adding the 3,637,000 yards carried over from 1923, the total of work booked or carried over is brought up to 10,039,000 yards. A year ago, up to Sept. 6, total awards were 6,911,000 and there was carried over 4,418,000 yards from 1922, or an aggregate of 11,329,000 yards. The decrease in total is therefore about 11 p. c., although actual awards this year are only 7 p. c. less than in 1923 to the corresponding date. The company is bidding on work all the time and in fact during the last week covered by the foregoing figures it secured 320,000 yards of work as compared with 160,000 yards in the corresponding week a year ago.

nI the more southerly sections of the country the company is able to work the year round, but in New England the season usually terminates in the middle of November or first of December.

Meeting of directors o fthe company is scheduled for Thursday of this week to act on the quarterly dividends. The usual declarations are expected.

DIVIDENDS RESUMED BY PACIFIC COAST CO.

JUDGE PRAISES WOMAN WHO RUNS FARM

Seeks to Divorce Husband in State Hospital and Educate 4 Daughters

Worcester, Sept. 9. — Judge William T. Forbes of Probate Court complimented Mrs. Sadie Flisa Adams of West Brookfield upon her ability as a farmer.

By conducting an eighty-acre farm, and doing practically all the work on it herself Mrs. Adams is hoping to educate her four daughters, Gladys, eighteen, Myra, sixteen, Sarah, ten, and Lena, six years old.

This came to the attention of the judge when the divorce case of Mrs. Adams against Warren Prescott Adams was called. Adams is now in the Westboro State Hospital.

FOREST FIRES RAGING IN YELLOWSTONE PARK

Ogden, Utah, Sept. 9.—A forest fire in Yellowstone National Park has burned over an area of 50,000 acres and still is unchecked, according to a brief report received by forest service headquarters here from A. C. McCain, supervisor of the Teton National Forest at Jackson.

The fire is on the Pitchstone Platea. Another fire has burned over an area of 1,800 acres on the Madison River, Supervisor McCain reported.

That German Loan

France and England Worry

France and England, especially, feel not so cheerful about German reparations. You understand it, of course.

Foreign nations, America leading, are to lend money to Germany to get her started. Then, if she makes money, she will pay reparations, running into thousands of millions of dollars.

Unless Germany succeeds in business, that is to say, unless she BEATS THE OTHER NATIONS in competition for world markets, she won't have any millions or thousands of millions to pay, and in that case she wouldn't be able to pay her bonds.

If she DOES succeed she will make the money by ruining the business of her competitors, France, England, etc., which wouldn't please them much.

What worries them chiefly is the fact that our financiers are planning to lend the money at high interest rates, and without danger to our home markets.

Our high tariff, which can be made higher on short notice, will protect us as much as we choose to be protected from Germany's competition.

In other words, we expect to make high interest on foreign bonds, our financiers beginning with a good big fat rake-off on the total sales. Then European countries will have to supply money to pay the bonds and the interest and the money to pay the German reparations by losing their business to Germany.

No wonder that Lord Rothermere, in his newspaper, is wondering what to do about it, and fussing.

Thinking Is Hard Work

Cigarettes Prove It

Lucy Gaston Page, who devoted her life to warfare against cigarettes, was buried the other day. Her last request was, "Don't send any flowers. Use the money to fight the cigarette evil."

Miss Page was not the first to prove that when you fight against the stream of human inclination, it is like swimming against the Niagara River just above the waterfall.

As Miss Page ends her war, in the cemetery, the government announces an increase in cigarette smoking of 11 per cent. for the first six months of this year, as compared with last year. And the companies that sell cigarettes show profits from 10 to 17 per cent. higher than they were.

No man ever became great merely by smoking cigarettes. On the other hand, the human being has been thinking, on a small scale for only fifty thousand years or so and hasn't got used to it, and must find something that will stop thinking occasionally. Tobacco is the least harmful relief. Alcohol and drugs also stop thinking, in too harmful a fashion.

The average man thinking is like a dog walking on his hind legs. Both want to stop the performance as soon as possible. To test your mental powers select any subject and see if you can keep your thought on that one subject for as much as three minutes by the watch. Not one in a hundred can do it.

The End of the Debt

According to the financing plans of the Treasury, the entire war debt of the United States, unless we have another war in the meantime, will be wiped out in thirty years.

And this notwithstanding the fact that the agreement for funding the British debt contemplates extending the payment over a period twice that long.

At the close of the year our debt amounted to twenty-one and a half billion dollars, about. Within one year it has been decreased by one billion ninety-eight millions dollars.

At its peak the war debt amounted, in 1919, to twenty-six and a half billion dollars, but by June, 1921, it was cut down to twenty-three billion dollars, which was about three months after Mr. Mellon had been appointed Secretary of the Treasury.

Provisions of existing laws would have made it possible to slide along on the annual debt reduction of only three hundred million dollars, which would have meant that from seventy to seventy-five years would have been required to liquidate the debt.

The total reduction of the debt in the three years of budget control has amounted to two billion seven hundred million dollars and over.

Great Cities Are Doomed

So Says Ford

Henry Ford says the city's doom is near. Big cities will disappear, big industries will shift to small towns throughout the nation—big town living is too expensive.

Henry Ford doesn't look FAR ENOUGH ahead. Big towns, with their horrible slums, and small towns with their dull monotony, hot dusty main streets, and dull lives will also disappear.

The flying machine will carry people to live on the hilltops in the fresh air where they OUGHT to live.

The same machines will take them to great industrial "cities," each "city" being one gigantic building of steel and glass, devoted to some one industry. Men will fly from their homes on the hills, to their jobs in the glass city. There workers will land on the roof and go down a mile or so to the right floor. In the evening, home they will fly 200 miles, more or less, in a few minutes.

After that there may be something even better. "It hath not yet been shown what we shall be."

One Million a Day

Who'll Get It?

The recent consolidation of railroads, it is said, will result in saving "one million a day." Money wasted on "overhead," the competitive scramble for business and other ways, will provide the $365,000,000 saving a year.

To whom will the three hundred and sixty-five million dollars go? To the public, the shippers? Why, of course not. It will go to the wise men that do the combining of railroads.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By HELEN ROWLAND

MANY a girl fancies she has won a man's heart, when all she has really succeeded in winning is his pity and a corner in his vanity.

* * *

Friendship is a far bigger thing than love. For the feeblest friendship may hold the germ of a beautiful love; whereas the most extravagant love may not have room for a tiny friendship.

Helen Rowland

* * *

"All the dogs are going mad," according to the dog-catcher; and so are all the women, if you believe the reformer and the pessimist.

* * *

Every widow seems to be an incurable optimist. If she has had a good, devoted husband, she thinks that all other men are like him, and if she has had the other kind, she believes all the rest are "different."

* * *

Love is not blind; its optical defect is the kind that can see a virtue shining through a collection of faults and a charm hidden under a multitude of blemishes.

* * *

A man just loves to "admit that he's weak," and then defy a brave, strong, chivalrous girl to save him from temptation.

* * *

You never can learn to be happy with a husband by sitting in the moon light and musing on how much happier you might be with somebody else.

* * *

Flour and sugar and butter and eggs are all totally unrelated; and so are romance, sentiment, friendship and passion. Still, it's not until you find them all mixed together in the right proportion that you get any thing like cake—or love.

* * *

Those who have been teaching the young idea how to shoot for the last few years, evidently didn't suspect that it was loaded with "self-expression."

* * *

There is no such thing as a "lost love." Real love is something which is hard to find—and once found, can never be lost!

WORDS OF THE WISE MEN

Despair is the conclusion of fools.

* * *

The reward of a thing well done is to have it done well.

* * *

Blunders mostly come from letting our wishes interpret our duties.

* * *

Repentance is the May of the virtues.

* * *

* * *

Though reason is not to be relied upon as universally sufficient to direct us what to do, yet it is generally to be relied upon, and obeyed, where it tells us what we are not to do.

* * *

Men are never so good or so bad as their opinions.

* * *

Seek not proud riches, but such as you may get justly use soberly, distribute cheerfully and leave contentedly.

* * *

Shun no toil to make yourself remarkable by some talent or other. Yet do not devote yourself to one branch exclusively. Strive to get clear notions about all. Give up no science entirely, for science is but one.

* * *

Waste is not grandeur.

He that will not reason is a bigot. He that cannot reason is a fool, and he that dares not reason is a slave.

* * *

We cannot eat the fruit while the tree is in blossom.

* * *

Thought is often bolder than speech.

* * *

Trust flattering life no more, redeem time past,
And live each day as if it were thy last.

THE HELPING HAND

Letters Not Answered Personally. No Attention Paid to Telephone Calls or Anonymous Letters. No Names Published.

The Editor asks that the kind readers of The Helping Hand Column please refrain from asking information over the telephone. With the large volume of mail to be taken care of daily, it is impossible to pay attention to these calls.

To Keep Family Together

Helping Hand Editor:

I am a married woman with a boy nearly eight years old and a husband willing to work and we can't get a place to work. We have spent all our money trying to get a job. Where we are living my little boy is wasting away. We need the country air and if I could get someone to help me get a start, I would like to get a little farm. I am a good worker, my little boy is a hustler, and his father can do carpenter work and farm work. Wouldn't some of your kind readers do something to give a good little American family a start in life? We are now without a cent. All my relatives are dead.

Mrs. F. H. C.

Dresses for Girl

Helping Hand Editor:

I have some dresses and shoes for a girl around ten years old. Will you please send me the address of some needy person.

Mrs. N. G.

Thank you. Mrs. E. McL., mother of five small children, has a girl just the age you mention. We are sending you her address.

Family of 10 Hungry

Helping Hand Editor:

Is there some kind person who can help a poor mother of eight children with food? All we have to live on is bread and tea. My husband has been out of work through sickness and can get steady work only two or three days a week.

Mother of 8.

Almost Desperate

Helping Hand Editor:

I wonder if through your wonderful paper, some good-hearted person could tell me where I could find a three or four-room tenement reasonable. I am a widow with three children and I could not afford to pay high prices. I am almost desperate. I am willing to do some work in return. Won't somebody please help me? I will have to move soon. Mrs. M. A.

Clothes to Cut Down

Helping Hand Editor:

Please send me the address of someone who could use some frying pans, a few old knives and forks, a few clothes for children three years or younger and some clothes that could be cut down for a small boy or girl. J. S. W.

Thank you. We are sending you the address of Mrs. D. N., who we feel sure will appreciate anything you may send her.

Wants Suburban Home

Helping Hand Editor:

Is there some kind person who would rent a tenement reasonable with four rooms and a yard for my children's sake, they are so tired of the city with no place to play. There are four children, two to eight years. If I could get a ten cent fare from Boston both my husband and I would be happy.

Mrs. F. J. F.

Address Sent

Helping Hand Editor:

Will you please give me the address of some family who could use or make over some things that my girl has outgrown? I have a suit that would fit a girl of 14 or 15, skirt and gingham dress and also a few baby things for a baby about 4 to 6 months.

MRS. B. F. G.

Thank you. Mrs. M. C., mother of six, has a girl and baby of the ages you mention and is greatly in need of clothing for both. We have sent you her address.

Feels Lonely

Helping Hand Editor:

Is there a girl who doesn't go to school or a woman who would like to make her home with us? I am alone all day and would like a companion. Will help with clothes and give a good home. There are only my husband and I, so it is lonely during the day.

POWER HOUSE ON WHEELS A MARVEL

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THE first practical test of a self-contained electric locomotive, using oil as fuel, was made by the New York Central Railroad in its freight yards on Eleventh avenue, New York. This locomotive, the first of its kind made in America, was built jointly by the General Electric Company and the Ingersoll-Rand Company.

The locomotive is, in effect, a complete powerhouse on wheels. It is independent of a third rail or any outside electric connections and was designed especially for switching service.

It consumes but twelve or fifteen cents' worth of fuel an hour, approximately one-third the cost of fuel used by the ordinary steam locomotive in similar service.

James McCue, for thirty-two years an employe of the New York Central, and driver of a steam locomotive since 1905, learned to operate the new locomotive after ten minutes' instruction.

"It is the simplest locomotive in the world to operate," he said. "Cleaner and much better in every respect. Just what we have needed for such yards as this."

What pleased the engineer most was that the moment he opened the throttle he had the full power of the plant at his command. There were no slow preliminary starts like those in getting an ordinary locomotive under way.

The oil-burning locomotive is practically a one-man affair. A fireman is required under the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission, but his sole duty is to ring the bell. If an automatic bell is attached to the engine the fireman's duty will be nothing.

In the absence of smoke and in the fact that it is necessary to operate the engine only when the locomotive is in use the new type of locomotive is much the same as an automobile.

This invention bids fair to revolutionize the motive power of railroads.

About the same time the use of the electric locomotive was demonstrated by Mr. Edison, the famous inventor. It seemed to be a practical success.

Between the two it is probable that the old-fashioned locomotive, carrying coal, will soon be a thing of the past and that the future of transportation will be entirely different from what it has been.

The electric locomotive is the kind that has been in use for some time by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad.

GARRETT P. SERVISS ON SHAKESPEARE

By Garrett P. Serviss,

Famous Astronomer and Writer on Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

IN the English Review for August appears "The Shakespeare Myth—A Callenge, by Lord Sydenham of Combe and H. H. Crouch Batchelor."

These writers hit some of the weak spots in the Shakespeare legend with smashing force. It may be hoped that at last a radical investigation of the question of the real authorship of the Shakespeare literature will be made. The policy of hush!—hush! or conspiracy of silence, hitherto favored by the defenders of the Stratford claim, is failing, and the public and the schools are going to hear about it.

When they have not been silent the "Shakespeareans" have made themselves both insulting and ridiculous by speaking of those who ventured to think that a greater man than the Stratford actor must have written the immortal plays as ignoramuses, imbeciles and gulls. They are now likely to find that this is a case of "bloody instructions which being taught return to plague the inventor."

The gist of the question can be put in a dozen plain words: Was the name "William Shakespeare" a pseudonym of the real author? The writers to whom I refer affirm, flatfootedly:

"For three and a half centuries the belief that the greatest poet of all time was a Warwickshire rustic, who deserted the illiterate wife he was forced to marry, and three children, about 1585, and went to London to seek his fortune, has been cherished and disseminated.

"This great myth is unique in the long and painful history of human credulity, because there is not a shred of evidence to connect the man from Stratford with the authorship of the immortal plays, which bear a name that was not his. "William Shakespeare" appears for the first time in the letters addressed to Lord Southampton with the publication of 'Venus and Adonis' (1593) and 'Lucrece' (1594); but no evidence of any relations between the actor and the peer has been discovered, and nothing is more unlikely than that they ever existed."

This question of name is only a small part of the challenge, but its importance has not hitherto, perhaps, been fully recognized. Consider these facts with regard to it: "The few scrawling signatures, which, if authentic, are the only specimens of the handwriting of the most learned man of his age, date from the time when his alleged literary activities had ended, and none of them is spelled 'Shakespeare.' If he had won his reputation under the latter name, why did he revert to variants just before his death?"

In the marriage bond the name is "Shagspere"; the will begins: "In the name of God, I, William Shackspere"; the answers to the interrogatories are signed "Wilm Shaxpr"; the only letter written to the actor is addressed to "Mr. Wm. Shackspere."

Also, consider this: "After the appearance of the two narrative poems, the name 'William Shakespeare' began to be attached to certain plays successively published as quartos; but these plays had been acted, several years in some cases, before they were published, and nineteen of them, including Richard II, Romeo and Juliet, and Richard III, appeared anonymously. It is remarkable that a few plays were printed as by W. Shakespeare, the inserted hyphen being obviously significant." (This suggests how the actor's name was transformed by the concealed author into a striking pseudonym.

Again: "The First Folio appeared seven years after the death of the supposed author. It contains plays to which the conventional name had been attached, others published anonymously, and still others previously unknown. Moreover some of the known plays were re-edited, and new passages, including 1,800 lines in Hamlet, were inserted. Who did all this work?

"Who introduced new plays never attributed to 'Shakespeare' and unpublished until 1923? Twelve plays attributed to 'Shakespeare' were in circulation when the Folio was published, but were excluded as spurious. Who excluded them?"

ONCE-OVERS

CULTIVATE THE ART OF SAYING "NO" GRACEFULLY AND TACTFULLY

Do you listen like a "wooden Indian" to a personal invitation and then, no matter how good your excuse for not accepting, do you say, "Thank you, I cannot accept," and drop the matter right there?

Have you any idea how rude you are?

Have you any idea how discourteous you sound when you refuse so curtly, probably with a half-smile playing over your features as you listen to the invitation, knowing perfectly well that in the end you are going to say, "No"?

Do you wonder why you are not as popular as you wish to be with your friends?

It is because you do not know how to smooth down your regrets.

You cannot refuse gracefully.

A certain young man once said to a girl: "I would rather have a marriage proposal declined by 'Miss So-and-So' than to be accepted by any other girl I know."
